Lackawanna Steel Strike Flares Into Swinging of Clubs

Ford Motor Company Faces Tieup Affecting Three Plants Employing 95,000 Men

(By The Associated Press)
The Bethlehem Steel mill at Lackawanna, N. Y., important production source of defense armament, was hit by a strike today which in its earliest stages brought a flare of violence.

C.I.O. strikers deployed in a two-mile picket line before the seven gates of the huge plant. Early today there were reports that clubs had swung against the windows and bodies of automobiles which carried employees toward their jobs in the mill. About 20 cars of workmen entered at 7 a. m. today at a seldom used gate, with 75 police standing by.

The strike fell promptly on a previously announced deadline, 9 p. m. last night, after an unproductive conference between the steel workers organizing committee, C. I. O., and representatives of the national defense commission and the federal conciliation service.

The Lackawanna mill employs 14,000 men, and union leaders declared the strike might spread soon to other Bethlehem plants, at Bethlehem, Johnstown, and Pottsville, Pa. At Bethlehem alone there are 21,000 employees.

Calls It Effective
Three hours after the strike broke, John Riffe, an assistant director of S. W. O. C., called it "one of the most effective I've ever seen."

He said only foremen and superintendents remained inside the plant after most of the 4,000 early night shift workers walked out.

On the other hand the plant's general manager, Edward F. Entwistle, called the strike a "dismal failure" and said only one bar mill was shut down for lack of workers.

The union claimed 3,000 pickets were available for duty. Efforts to mediate the strike still are going on, declared Thomas Burns, a defense commission representative, as he and an associate left for Washington.

The union is demanding a 25 per cent wage boost, a collective bargaining election, and reinstatement of several hundred workers "indefinitely suspended" by the company. A Bethlehem spokesman said the men were suspended because of "sit-downs," refusal to work, and damage to company property.

Another giant industrial organization, the Ford Motor Company at Detroit, faced the threat of a strike at three plants employing nearly 95,000 men.

Formal Notice Filed
The C. I. O.-United Automobile Workers filed a formal notice with the Michigan labor mediation board of its intention to strike at Ford's Lincoln, Rouge and Highland Park factories.

However, under Michigan law a 30-day cooling off period must intervene before the strike could take effect. C. I. O.-U. A. W. leaders telegraphed President Roosevelt that they were prepared to adjust the grievances without striking, if an avenue to that end could be opened.

Their message charged that the company had violated "flagrantly" an N. L. R. B. order to desist from labor practices characterized as unfair, including, they asserted, attempts to dissuade employees from joining the union. I. A. Capizzi, (Continued on Page Three)

Russia Balks Over Nazi Troop Passage

Yugoslavia Now Fears Germans May Try to Invade Greece Through Their Country; British Might Break Bulgarian Ties

(By The Associated Press)

Balkan diplomats heard today that Soviet Russia has raised objections to the passage of German troops through Bulgaria as dispatches from Belgrade said the Yugoslav general staff ordered a speed-up in defense preparations. Yugoslavia was said to fear now that German armies massed in Rumania might attempt to invade Greece through Yugoslavia instead of Bulgaria.

Yugoslavia's Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincar-Marcovic was called back unexpectedly to Belgrade from Budapest, capital of Hungary, where he had arrived only yesterday to sign a Yugoslav-Hungarian treaty of friendship.

Diplomats quarters in Budapest heard that his abrupt recall was connected with "impending events of importance between the Axis and Yugoslavia."

Long the tradition protector of her "little Slav brothers" in Bulgaria, Soviet Russia may have decided to stiffen her attitude toward a German thrust into southeast Europe as a result of conferences now going on in Ankara, Turkey.

Squabble Impends Over Road Plans

Wicks' Measure Reported Gaining More Headway in State Senate

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—Decision of legislative leaders to subject all highway construction proposals to a public hearing foreshadowed today a road building squabble threatening to dwarf the annual "battle of the budget."

Mounting dissension that crossed party lines over Governor Lehman's proposed $60,000,000 diversion of grade crossing funds to highways and a counter suggestion for a $200,000,000 bond issue for roads was expected by lawmakers to flare into the open after airing of the measures March 12.

While the governor's diversion recommendation was passed by the last Legislature and requires only approval this year before its submission to the people, some majority Republican legislators acknowledged a reversal of attitude toward the proposed constitutional amendment unless additional provisions are made for their upstate areas.

Chief argument of some earlier advocates of the governor's plan was that diversion of the funds would prevent removal of grade crossings in districts they represent.

Other lawmakers resented a plan to permit allocation of half of the diverted funds for parkway development in Westchester, Nassau, Erie, Suffolk and Monroe counties. They maintained expenditures on such projects would curtail needed road construction in their areas.

Meanwhile, the proposed $200,000,000 bond issue, which would be amortized in 10 years by state retention of one-quarter of the four-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax, was reported gaining "more serious consideration," particularly in the Senate.

The measure is sponsored by Senator Arthur Wicks, Kingston Republican, and Assemblyman Harry Reoux, Warrensburg Republican.

House Passes Bill
Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a $1,333,439,702 emergency appropriation bill after overwhelmingly defeating an anti closed shop amendment which its opponents said would "tie the defense program into knots."

Vogts to Establish Bottling Plant on Farm at New Paltz

Meadow Valley Farms Plan New Receiving Unit on Becker Farm; Former Site Is Taken

New Paltz, Feb. 27—Meadow Valley Farms of Huguenot street, a subsidiary of Vogt Dairies, Inc., plans to establish its milk receiving station and bottling plant on another local farm and its former plant will be taken over by Silvi Sponeri, operator of Seton Farms, Inc., of New York, it was learned here today.

According to David W. Corwin, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. David F. Jewett, owners of the property now occupied by the Meadow Valley Farms, a hearing is scheduled in Albany tomorrow on the application of the New York concern to receive milk from local producers and to bottle milk in the plant.

Option Is Obtained
It was also announced that an option to be executed March 10 has been obtained by Vogt Dairies, Inc., from Mrs. Christian Becker, owner of another farm property on Huguenot street, with a view to constructing a milk station and bottling plant there.

Disagreement over rental between the Vogt Dairies, Inc., and Mr. and Mrs. Jewett, owners of the plant which the concern has operated for the past few years, according to Attorney Corwin, resulted in an action being brought against the dairy company.

Recovery Action
Mr. Corwin said that the action arises from the fact that the Vogt Company has paid a certain straight sum since April, 1939, and the plaintiffs seek to recover for a sum amounting to a monthly rental of $200 dating back to October, 1939.

Negotiations have been under way since last summer, according to the attorney and when no settlement was agreed upon the action was started.

It was not learned definitely when the Vogt Company will complete its arrangements for starting its new plant nor when the New York concern will move to the Jewett farm, but it is understood that definite plans are under way by both concerns.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—The position of the treasury February 27: Receipts $1,701,296.95. Expenditures $36,050,103.58. Net balance $1,759,097,091.29. Working balance included $1,015,696,869.53. Customs receipts for month $26,959,469.72. Receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $3,755,971,691.26. Expenditures $7,250,609,529.09. Excess of expenditures $3,494,637,837.74. Gross debt $46,070,146,123.63. Increase over previous day $2,251,899.09. Gold assets $22,171,592,679.12.

Sessions Loom Big At Ankara

Conferees Await Anglo Ambassador Cripps From Moscow; Renda Attends

Control Is Aim Dardanelles Restriction on Shipping Is Move Against Axis

Ankara, Turkey, Feb. 27 (AP)—British and Turkish leaders joined in a diplomatic and military session today to tackle thorny problems of the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean as they awaited the arrival of Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador at Moscow.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British imperial general staff, and their aides and British ambassador Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen met in the Turkish cabinet room with Turkish foreign minister Sukru Saracoglu, field marshal Chakmak and officers of the Turkish general staff "for a general review of the situation."

(Sir Stafford left Moscow by plane today and reports in the Russian capital said Eden has requested the ambassador to proceed to Turkey for the conference.)

Reaction Is Sought
Unofficial reports said Great Britain was sounding out Turkish reaction to a plan for regulating traffic through the Dardanelles, strategic waterway linking the Mediterranean and the Black Sea.

Some sources said they believed Eden would propose that Turkey assume strict jurisdiction over the Strait, barring all merchant traffic without special permission.

(Such a step possibly would be designed to cut off one route for oil shipments to the Axis powers—Italy in particular. It might also be used as a club to prevent Bulgaria—dependent on the Straits for her sea-borne commerce—from yielding too easily to any German demands.)

Today's British-Turkish conference was the first since Eden arrived here yesterday morning. Turks and British alike expressed pleasure at yesterday's British announcement of capture of the Italian island of Castelrosso with its seaplane base just off Turkey. The nearness of the base to Turkish soil long has been a sore point in Ankara.

The meeting broke up at 1 p. m. for a luncheon given by Premier Refik Saydam but the greater part of the afternoon was left open for resumption of the discussions. President Ismet Inonu was expected to receive Eden later.

Government May Use Golf Courses Near New York for Landing Fields

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Possible conversion of metropolitan golf courses into landing fields for warplanes is under study by the war department, authoritative sources disclosed today, as a part of general precautionary preparations for all emergencies.

An air corps board has been ordered to make an official survey of the golf courses in the vicinity of New York city, which number upwards of 200.

Officials familiar with the proposal stressed there was no intention to commandeer golf courses on a large scale, even if they prove adaptable, for such a program would be very costly. The New York area survey was believed the only one ordered.

Claims made in the war in Africa include: The first clash of British and German forces in Libya was reported southeast of Agadabia (1), and the Nazis claimed their fliers had bombed Tobruk; a free French force had pushed up from Lake Chad (2) to join the British to the north; British forces were trying to close in toward Massaua (3), and the capture of Mogadiscio (4) was claimed by the British. Mogadiscio is capital of Italian Somaliland. British penetrations are marked in solid black.

71 Persons Named In Indictments as Postal Violators

Eight-State Lottery Is Said to Have Netted Huge Returns; Procedure Follows Probe

Pittsburgh, Feb. 27 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted 71 persons on charges of violating postal laws in the operation of an eight-state lottery, which post-office agents described as a "million-dollar" enterprise and one of the largest of its kind in the nation.

Acting on a complaint entered by acting U. S. Attorney George Mashank, the grand jury returned indictments charging the 71 with using the mail for furtherance of a lottery with conspiracy to violate postal regulations through distribution of materials for a lottery based chiefly on the treasury balance and sports results.

The jury's action resulted from an 18-month investigation of the pool owners association, which postal inspector D. H. Stephens charged was organized and headed by Louis Cohen, former Boston attorney and one of those indicted. Cohen was listed variously as a resident of Miami, Fla., Newton, Mass., Wilmington, Del., and Philadelphia.

The complaint charged the organization had its main headquarters at 901 Drexel avenue in the exclusive Drexel Hill district of Philadelphia, and operated in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Ohio, New York, Massachusetts, Florida and Delaware.

To Furnish Experts
The Federal Reserve System will provide the nucleus of personnel for the regional offices of the Defense Contract Service. Senior officers in each of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks and their 24 branches will serve as field agents.

These field offices will be adequately staffed with business, financial, contract and engineering experts to provide decentralized advisory services to all business enterprises, particularly smaller units, holding or seeking defense contracts or eligible for subcontracting work.

Thus all owners of manufacturing facilities, however large or small, will be able to find in their own geographical regions complete information and advice on all problems pertaining to the defense program.

It is contemplated that each field office will have several full-time experts and other part-time advisers on technical problems.

One unit of the Defense Contract Service will pay special attention to the question of broadening the sub-contracting system and attendant problems.

Chavez Says Aid Measure Invites War

Brown Argues British Bill Only Weapon to Defend American Democracy

F.D.R. to Confer

Early Says Conferences Will Go on With Officials

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Senator Taft (R., Ohio) asserted in the Senate today that President Roosevelt was "deliberately holding back aid to England in order to put pressure on this congress" to pass the administration's British aid bill.

His assertion brought a retort from Senator Chandler (D., Ky.) that "the senator from Ohio says he wants to help England but he wants to help 'em just enough so they're certain to get beat."

"He (Taft) wants to be in a position at some time in the future," Chandler declared, "that both sides will think he was for them. He wants to aid 'em $2,000,000 worth so they will get beat."

Taft had interrupted Senator Brown (D., Mich.) to read a newspaper article which reported that the administration was preparing to assemble surplus defense materials to be dispatched to England when the pending British aid bill was passed.

Contending that the President had had power all along to transfer such materials, he asked why action had not been taken earlier if the President wanted to help England.

"I think this statement was given out," he said, "solely for the purpose of putting pressure on this congress."

Meanwhile, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, told reporters that there now appeared to be "no serious objection" among the supporters of the British aid bill to accepting an amendment by Senator Lucas (D., Ill.) which would establish a joint congressional committee to consult with the President regarding defense measures.

"The committee would be composed of the majority and minority leaders and the chairmen of the foreign affairs committees of both houses."

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Senator Chavez (D-N.M.) took up the cudgels today on the British aid bill, Chavez contending that the legislation invited war while Brown argued that it was the best, "the only weapon" at hand for the defense of American democracy.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said today that President Roosevelt would continue a series of conferences with war, navy, state and treasury department heads so that "we will not be guilty of a minute's more delay than we can prevent" when Congress acts finally on the British aid bill.

Much work remains to be done in gearing the administration to handle the aid program, Early said. Several conferences were held yesterday.

Early was asked "how far has the President progressed on these talks on setting up machinery on the lease-lend program?"

Not Nearly So Far
"Not nearly so far as the headlines this morning indicated," he said. "The stories have been well but the headlines have been moving supplies from arsenals and getting ready to make a complete and immediate turnover. That is not so."

With the general debate now in its 10th day, some supporters of the bill manifested fresh uneasiness over the possibility of a surprise opposition filibuster, despite an agreement to start consideration of amendments next week.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Calif.) said he would not be surprised at such tactics, and announced that in such an event he would favor cloture of debate. Normally, cloture of amendments signifies the approach of a final roll call, but Van Nuys pointed out that opposition senators could continue to speak at any length during the amendment discussion, if they wished.

Cloture—which requires a two-thirds majority—would impose drastic limitations on any speech-making. No senator would be allowed to address the chamber more than once, and his time allotment would be one hour.

Van Nuys voiced the belief that enough votes were available to impose cloture—but a number of colleagues seemed very doubtful. There were indications, however, (Continued on Page 22)

Steve, the Joker, Has Ann's Thanks For 10 Happy Days

Gary, W. Va. (AP)—It was Steve who brought about "Affaire Sklepovich."

Steve is the 18-year-old brother of Anna Sklepovich who received a phony invitation to visit President Roosevelt. Anna, of course, saw the President anyway, and became a celebrity.

Steve (who smiles when he denies it) unsealed a routine letter from the White House acknowledging 14-year-old Anna's greeting to the President, whose birthday is the same as Anna's. As a post script, Steve penned: "We would like to have you come to the White House and meet the President."

Anna went, in good faith. White House aides challenged the authenticity of the invitation, but Mr. Roosevelt saw her anyway, and the First Lady gave her a piece of birthday cake. Anna also went to New York and did a radio broadcast.

Back with her family, in this small mining community, Anna exulted over "the happiest 10 days of my life."

Thanks to Steve, the practical joker.

Local Oil Men Honor Birthday of Gas Tax

There was a circle around the date of February 25 on the calendars of many gasoline filling stations in Ulster county, according to D. M. Swan, chairman of the Ulster County Petroleum Industries Committee. That day was the 22nd anniversary of the American gasoline tax, which was born in the Oregon legislature in 1919. Since then all the states, and federal government as well, have adopted gasoline taxes.

"Motorists of Ulster county have contributed their full share of the $738,881,000 in gasoline taxes which have been collected in New York to date by the state and federal governments," said Mr. Swan.

"A total of more than $10,000,000,000 in gasoline taxes have been collected in the United States in the past 22 years."

"Because approximately half of the car owners have incomes of less than $30 a week, according to studies of the federal government, it is important that the burden of federal and state taxation on gasoline be kept at as reasonable levels as possible."

Red Cross Reports War Relief Acts

Relief supplies sent through the American Red Cross to the victims of the warfare in Europe and in the Orient reached a total value of $19,496,805 up to February 1.

This total figure includes expenditures and commitments from the $21,827,608 American Red Cross War Relief Fund, estimated value of Chapter produced articles, and supplies made available through the United States Government purchases.

The government supplies have been purchased with funds provided in the Congressional foreign war relief appropriation of $50,000,000. Of this amount $18,000,000 has been set aside by the president for the purchase of supplies to be distributed by the American Red Cross. The allotted funds are available for purchases, including transportation, but to date have not all been used.

Expenditures and commitments from the American Red Cross War Relief Fund up to February 1, totaled $8,178,817, and the estimated value of Red Cross Chapter produced garments and surgical dressings and donated supplies shipped was $5,485,409.

Soldiers of South Africa have been ordered to stand and remove their caps when "God Save the King" is played in motion picture theatres.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scherer visited Mr. and Mrs. L. House of Esopus Friday evening.

Members of the family of the Rev. F. A. Potter who have been ill with gripe are improving.

Peter Dunn, Sr., has returned from the Kingston Hospital and is convalescing at his home.

Choir rehearsal will be held at the home of Miss Harriet Olsen Thursday evening.

Hunter Is Flop

Kerrville, Tex. (AP)—Dick Smith went through 45 days of the hunting season, killed no deer and spent $15.75 for wasted ammunition.

After the season closed, he was driving toward Kerrville when a buck leaped a fence and landed against the side of his truck, breaking its neck and causing $15 damage to the vehicle. Smith couldn't even use the meat, since under the law it had to be turned over to the nearest game warden.

Inherits Property

New York, Feb. 26 (Special)—A house in New Paltz, and certain personal property goes to Mrs. Marie Staats of 184 West 10th street, New York, from the estate of her husband, the late Charles P. Staats, according to the terms of his will, filed for probate today in Surrogate's Court here. Two children, Charles and Betty Staats, receive the remainder. Mr. Staats died February 21. His property, declared for probate purposes to be "more than $10,000," has not yet been appraised. The widow is executrix.

The Good Earth

Hickory, N. C. (AP)—A uniformed sailor marched into a draft board office here to register for Army service. He had just completed four years of Navy service but was required by law to register for the draft after his discharge. His reason for changing uniforms: "I get seasick too easy."

Ford counsel, declared none of the union charges was true.

Ford has orders for 4,000 airplane engines, several thousand army trucks, and parts for bombers.

While the developments at the Bethlehem Steel and Ford Motor plants were shaping up, high officials at Washington were reported discussing the possibility of forming an 11-member, non-salaried "Supreme Court" labor board to determine and publish facts in labor disputes where the regular labor conciliation service was not able to effect a settlement.

Well-informed sources said that if such a board were created by executive order, it likely would include four representatives of labor, four of employers, and three persons to represent the public.

Other labor developments included:

A strike of 65 engineers, firemen and trainmen of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah Railway, in Georgia, was called for today after collapse of negotiations for wage increases. The short line road is the only railway to Camp Wheeler, $9,000,000 army cantonment.

At Youngstown, Ohio, a strike of C.I.O. crane operators at the electric-weld plant of Republic Steel Corporation was settled.

A federal conciliator expressed belief the groundwork had been laid for settlement of a nine-day strike at two San Diego, Calif., hostyards which had navy orders.

Cars With Rear Engines Predicted for Future

Though speculation on what the motor car of the future will be like is no longer novel, it has become something more than an idle pastime. This country now has 5,000 automobile research engineers at work, compared with 150 in 1922. Their work undoubtedly will continue to result in cars that are more efficient, more comfortable and safer than those they displace.

At a recent dinner of the Society of Automotive Engineers, David Beecroft, a past president, predicted that the future will bring cars with engines in the rear, bodies in which the superstructure is a part of the chassis and engines of higher compression ratios, supplying more speed and agility. Tires, he believes, will be made of synthetic rubber and rayon fabric, the latter replacing cotton.

In general, automotive engineers have been limited more than airplane designers by tradition and by consumer preferences. It sometimes has been difficult and costly to induce the buying public to accept useful innovations. Yet major improvements are generally sure of acceptance, if not always as promptly as might be. Changes that may come in the next decade, such as changing the motor to the back of the car, may help to make driving safer than it is today.

Youths Under 21 Commit 375 Murders Last Year

Juveniles continue to comprise a large portion of the criminal element in the United States, according to a survey by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, based upon records received in its identification division from law enforcement agencies throughout the country.

One out of every three persons arrested for robbery was under 21 years of age, while one out of every two persons who committed burglary had not reached his majority. More than one-half of all auto thefts were committed by juveniles.

More persons 19 years of age were arrested than any other single age group, a condition also prevailing from 1932 until the middle of 1935 and again in the year 1939. From the middle of 1935 through 1938 ages 21, 22, and 23 were most frequently represented. Ages 21 and 22 ranked next in order of frequency to age 19 for the first six months of this year.

The seriousness of the juvenile crime problem is emphasized by the statistics released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation indicating that during the first six months of 1940, 375 persons less than 21 years of age were charged with murder or manslaughter, 1,964 with robbery, 1,796 with assault, 8,228 with burglary, and 14,685 with larceny and related crimes.

Tough Meat Made Tender

Tough beef can be made as tender and fresh as new mown hay, scientists say. All one needs is a violet ray machine. The Food Foundation of Mellon institute has announced that fresh beef, if exposed to ultra-violet rays for three days, will be as tender as meat hung in a refrigerating plant for eight weeks. It was only after years of experimentation that this tenderizing process was discovered, the Food Foundation has announced. The new method can be applied also to mutton and to fowls, for there is tough mutton and tough chicken under present conditions and these too can be made more palatable. Another advantage of this violet ray treatment on meat is that it actually kills any bacteria which might have been in the beef, the scientists say. The day may soon come when the ultra-violet ray treatment may be enlarged to include many other foods in which the growth of bacteria is suspected or possible.

State Income Tax Auditor Will Aid Taxpayers Here

Albany, Feb. 27.—State income tax examiners received assignments today sending them into communities throughout the Albany district for the purpose of lending a hand to taxpayers in the preparation of their 1940 New York State income tax returns before the April 15 due date.

The Albany area assignments were announced by Deputy Tax Commissioner Cortland A. Wilber, who urged "first time" taxpayers and others who are uncertain about some of the entries on their return to take advantage of the expert, free services of the state auditors.

A representative of the State Income Tax Bureau will be stationed at the court house here on the following dates: March 3 to March 8, inclusive, and April 7 to April 15, inclusive, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

In addition to those scheduled to visit the Albany district, a number of examiners will be available for consultation and advice at the central offices in the State Office Building, throughout the forthcoming collection period.

"We are anxious to offer the taxpayer every assistance in making out his return," said Mr. Wilber, "and we hope that taxpayers will not hesitate to avail themselves of the services of these examiners."

He suggested that taxpayers may find it convenient to prepare and file the state return at the same time they dispose of the federal income tax return, and pointed out that auditors would visit many localities early in March so that taxpayers may undertake both tasks at the same time.

Mr. Wilber pointed out that state returns must be filed by single persons having a net income and net capital gain of $1,000 or more in the calendar year 1940, and by married couples having a net income and net capital gain of $2,500 or more.

There has been no change in the rates from those imposed last year. The normal rates are graduated from two percent on the first $1,000 of net income to seven percent on all amounts in excess of $9,000. In addition, there is an emergency tax of one percent. Net capital gains are taxed at rates one-half those applied for the normal tax on net income.

Income taxpayers who pay in installments were reminded by Mr. Wilber that one-half of the normal tax and one-half of the emergency tax is due not later than April 15. The second installment one-quarter of the normal tax and one-half of the emergency tax, is due by June 15 and the balance by October 15.

Chicago Correspondent Is Told to Leave Italy

Rome, Feb. 26 (AP)—The ministry of popular culture today asked John T. Whitaker, correspondent of the Chicago Daily News, to leave Italy.

Whitaker said he was advised through the United States embassy that the ministry wished him to leave within 10 days "because of the number and importance of his contacts and the unfriendly attitude of his newspaper," and also because the tone of his dispatches had been displeasing.

The Italian authorities approached the embassy, it was understood, to avoid a formal expulsion order by the police as a courtesy to Whitaker.

Whitaker is the second American correspondent to be asked to leave Italy since Italy entered the war. The first was the New York Times correspondent, Herbert L. Matthews, who was expelled October 7 and was permitted to return six weeks later.

Von Papen, Up and Down Man He's UP Again

Franz Von Papen, handsome German aristocrat, was called the man behind the Bulgarian-Turkish non-aggression treaty. That put him on top again after being on and off for 25 years. Here's his record:

DOWN—As a German military attaché accused of plotting, he was recalled in 1915 from Washington.

UP—He became chief of staff of 4th Turkish army in 1917.

DOWN—He resigned from the army in 1918, re-entered politics but grumbled along without distinguishing himself.

UP—Suddenly became Chancellor of Germany in 1932, opposing Hitler.

DOWN—His cabinet fell after a few weeks.

UP—Hitler made his Vice Chancellor in 1933.

DOWN—He barely escaped the 1934 blood purge, reports said.

UP—He was named Minister to Austria as a good will measure.

DOWN—The Austrians didn't like the idea and said so.

UP—He had a hand in the Anschluss of Austria, in 1938, and was named ambassador to Turkey.

DOWN—He failed to keep Turkey from tying up with France and England.

attended the winter session in New York Monday evening.

For the March meeting of the Dutch Arms a speaker from the Salvation Army and an engineer from the DuPont Powder Co. have been invited. They will be assisted by Gordon Pine of New Paltz.

Britons Brush Up On Wartime Dishes Made of Seaweed

Glasgow, Scotland (AP)—Seaweed soup, stems of sea-tangle and sea moss jelly, swilled down with carrageen may not seem an intelligible menu to the average man, but they are an example of what Scotland and Wales can turn out in an emergency.

Londoners got a taste of these "delicacies" at an exhibition of Scottish and Welsh dishes suited to wartime menus. The tasters politely praised the strange wartime food but confessed that roast beef and mutton were more to their liking.

Success of the dishes, made from dulse, an edible seaweed, depends on the cooking and flavoring. Skokan, one of the favorites, has to be washed, steeped, stewed in milk and deprived of its bitterness with judicious pinches of bicarbonate of soda. Then pepper, vinegar and lemon juice are added according to taste.

GRANGE NEWS

Asbury Grange

The regular meeting of the Asbury Grange was held at the Grange Hall on Monday evening with Earl Minkler, master, presiding.

The S. and H. committee is undertaking the project of beautifying the grange grounds.

Plans were made for a card party to be held at the hall, March 13.

A box lunch is being planned for the next meeting, March 10. Each lady is to bring a lunch for two, partners to be chosen at the meeting.

The county deputy will make his official visit April 5. This night will also be past masters night.

The lecturers program included songs, discussions on famous men of the past and present and a game of "truth and consequences."

Stone Ridge Grange

Stone Ridge, Feb. 27.—At the last meeting of the Grange held on Monday evening, February 17, there was a good attendance although the weather was unfavorable.

A portion of the lecturer's hour was devoted to a discussion of "What Would Lincoln Have Done in the Present Crisis," by Sister Friend, and a discussion of "What Would Washington Have Done in the Present Crisis," by Worthy Master Sheeley. Both speakers handled their subjects creditably, presenting many strong points to support their contentions.

At the close of the address, questions were asked of the speakers and the whole affair was enjoyable and educational.

The Worthy Lecturer, Sister Vanderburgh, announces that a portion of the lectures hour for the next meeting to be held on Monday, March 3, will be an address by Charles C. Walden of the local draft board. Mr. Walden will explain the working of the board.

This address will be at 9 o'clock and will be open to the public, to which an invitation is extended.

On Thursday evening, March 20, at 8 o'clock in the Grange Hall, members of the Grange will present, "An Old Fashioned Vaudeville Show." At least 15 different solos, choruses, specialties, skits and novelties will be presented.

Two hours or more of a real old fashioned vaudeville show. Many well known local entertainers will be in this performance. The public is invited to attend.

How to Buy it YOUR MEAT How to Cook it

Bacon Good for Any Meal of The Day

Broil or Panbroil It At Low Temperature

Breakfast Menu
Grapefruit Halves
Bacon Waffles
Honey or Syrup
Butter
Coffee

Bacon is one of the most reliable aids to the meal-planner. It is good for any meal of the day, from breakfast to supper, including a place on the tray of appetizers, and for an in-between lunch, bacon makes a good sandwich filler.

It is also excellent to use as seasoning with other foods. A good supply of bacon, therefore, is one of those household "musts," in the opinion of most homemakers.

Bacon is sold sliced or unsliced, tins strips of lean and fat. Sometimes the proportion of fat is greater. Canadian style bacon, which is from the loin section, is mostly lean meat.

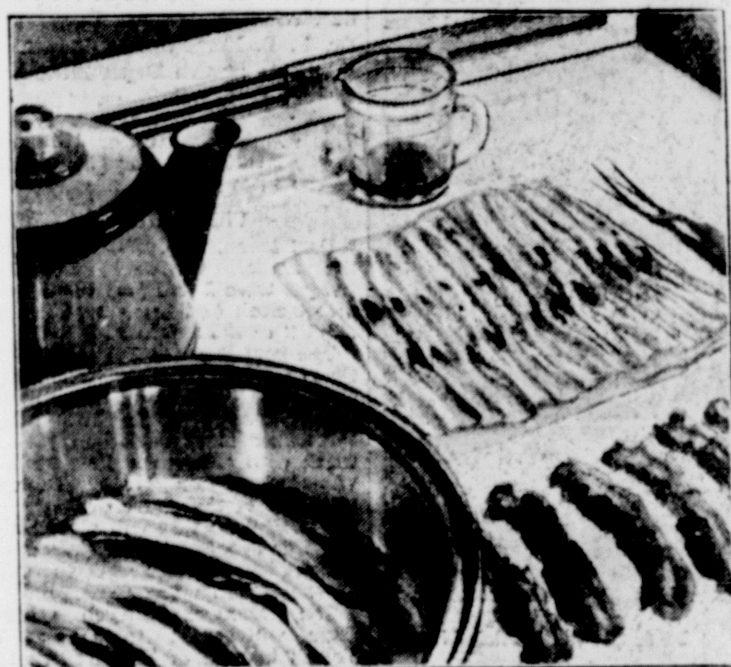

Bacon is sold sliced or unsliced as preferred.

Proper Cooking Important

Since bacon is so useful and so popular, the knowledge of the right way to cook it is important. The degree to which it is cooked, whether or not it is very crisp, is a matter of preference. And there are those who insist upon having their bacon curled, while others like to have the slices lie flat.

Bacon may be broiled or pan-broiled. But however it is cooked and to whatever degree, it should be cooked slowly. This is the chief thing to keep in mind.

All Ready for Breakfast

Bacon makes breakfast a meal worth getting up for! To panbroil, place slices in a cool skillet and over low heat. When it is a golden brown, place on absorbent paper to drain. This will make flat uniform slices.

Panbroiled Bacon

Place a single layer of bacon in a cool frying-pan. Place it over low heat. Turn frequently. Drain excess fat as it accumulates, so that the bottom of the pan is only well greased. Cook slowly until the bacon is a light golden brown and evenly crisped.

Broiled Bacon

Place slices of bacon on a cool broiler rack. Place rack about three inches from the source of heat. Broil at a moderate temperature. Turn frequently. Cook until the bacon is a light golden brown and evenly crisped.

Grilled Bacon and Tomatoes

Bacon slices
5 slices bread, cut into rounds
2 large tomatoes
4 tablespoons grated cheese
Toast bread on one side. Slice the tomatoes in thick slices and place one piece on each slice of bread, the untoasted side. Sprinkle grated cheese over the top. Cross 2 slices of bacon on each and place on the broiler rack. Allow to cook slowly until the bacon is crisp and the cheese is melted. Serve with additional slices of crisp broiled bacon and a garnish of pickle strips.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—The rally spirit cooled in today's stock market and steel, together with other leading industries, dipped fractions to 2 points.

An attempted recovery shift before noon failed to attract a following and prices were around the lows near the final hour. Dealings frequently came to a standstill and transfers for the full proceedings were at the rate of approximately 300,000 shares.

Revival of pessimism over the labor outlook in the wake of the Bethlehem Steel strike, brokers said, had considerable to do with causing some shareholders to cash in on last week's run-up and retire to await word from Washington as to what action might be taken to prevent further interruptions to the defense program. Scant bullish inspiration was derived from foreign war dispatches.

Bonds and commodities turned somewhat irregular. Among faltering stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Anaconda, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Bath Iron Works and Air Reduction.

In an uneven curb Aluminum of America retreated, along with Brewster Aero, Gulf Oil and Singer Mfg. Advances were posted for Colts Patent Fire Arms, Humble Oil and American Cyanamid "B."

Vote of Confidence

London, Feb. 27 (AP)—The House of Commons gave Prime Minister Churchill's government a unanimous vote of confidence today on the issue of whether members of Parliament appointed to posts outside the country should be permitted to retain their seats. The House approved a bill to accomplish this purpose after the Prime Minister had forced the issue by declaring he would consider the

Shipping Attracts Further Attention

Priorities System Might Be Put Into Effect on Ocean Shipping

Stocks held firm Wednesday, with volume restricted to 382,970 shares for the day, but while some issued made new high ground for the recovery movement, the close showed the Dow-Jones averages but little changed, the composite average of 65 stocks being up .03 for the day. The industrial average was off .01 at the close, to 122.39; rails were up .09, to 27.52, and utilities moved ahead .01, to 19.16.

The shipping situation attracted further attention to import commodities, with news that a system of priorities may be put into effect on ocean shipping, with American ships reserved for transport of materials desired for the defense program. Wheat resumed its advance and futures closed 3/4 to one cent a bushel higher. Cotton dropped after an early rise and closed up one point to off three.

A survey by the Bureau of Mines brings the report that domestic deposits of tin would be "an inconsequential factor in supplying the essential requirements of defense and related industries." It is stated that stocks of tin on hand in this country at the present time are sufficient for about 15 months at the current rate of demand.

Two Are Indicted For Conspiracy to Kidnap 3 Boys

Pair Now Is Doing Time for Writing 'Fake' Note in Levine Case Which Is Still Unsolved

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—Two young men, now serving prison terms for writing a "fake" ransom note in the kidnap-slitting of Peter Levine, were indicted today on charges of conspiracy to kidnap three other sons of wealthy Westchester country families.

They were Edward J. Penn, 21, and Werner F. Luck, 25, imprisoned in July, 1938, after they attempted to extort $30,000 from Murray Levine, father of the 12-year-old boy. The Levine case is listed as unsolved.

The federal government charged that their intended victims were Robert J. Hardart, 16, son of the secretary of a restaurant chain; Lyman Whelan, 15, and David G. Leggett, Jr.

U. S. Attorney General John T. Cahill charged them with attempting to kidnap the three youths about a month before the Levine boy disappeared in February, 1938.

Peter's headless body, bound with wire, was washed up on the shores of Long Island Sound a little more than three months after he disappeared.

Demanding $60,000

A ransom payment of $60,000 had been demanded originally by the kidnapers. It finally was reduced to $30,000, a sum the father, a New York lawyer, stood ready to pay as he waited for a "contact" that never came.

A week after Penn and Luck were convicted of trying to collect the ransom money, a 20-year-old pastry cook's helper, Santiago Gutierrez, was convicted on similar charges in New York and sentenced to Elmira Reformatory.

Then followed the arrest and subsequent indictment of other men—in Salt Lake City, Detroit, Chicago, and Trenton, N. J.—on similar charges. It was estimated that close to 12,000 persons have been questioned in the three-year-old case.

Luck will be brought to New York from Auburn Prison within a few days to plead to the indictment.

The U. S. attorney emphasized that Penn and Luck were in no way linked in the indictment to the Levine kidnaping.

The indictment charged that the two wrote messages containing demands for money which they planned to send to relatives of the intended victims. It alleged further that plans were made for the transportation of victims in interstate commerce from New York to Pinewood, N. J., and various places in Connecticut.

Educator Suggests Cure For Chronic Thumb-Sucker

CHICAGO.—Parents would do more for their thumb-sucking offspring by seeking a psychological substitute for the habit. That is the belief of Dr. George W. Teuscher, assistant professor of child dentistry at Northwestern university.

In studying 173 children with the habit, he found that all but three suffered from deformities of the lips, jaws and teeth, he reported in the Journal of the American Dental Association.

The easiest solution for parents is to prevent formation of the habit, but where thumb-sucking is already being practiced, mechanical contrivances sometimes are effective in checking it.

Dr. Teuscher would prefer, however, that parents study the individual child to determine the best "psychological formula" for correction, even though this approach frequently involves parent education in child development.

Mary Shann of Boiceville died at Brooklyn, February 26. She was the wife of the late Joseph Shann and mother of William J. Shann; daughter-in-law, Mrs. M. J. Shann, and three grandchildren. Services will be held at Walter Cook Funeral Home, 150-10 Hillside avenue, Jamaica, L. I., Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in the family plot at Evergreen cemetery, Brooklyn.

The funeral services of Robert Scism, a private in Battery A, 156th Field Artillery, of this city, who died Wednesday morning at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., will be held Friday afternoon at the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Mt. Marion cemetery with military honors. The body arrived here this morning. Friends may call at the parlors any time.

Miss Jeanette Helleberg died suddenly at her home in New Rochelle on Tuesday. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. F. A. Benson of Woodstock and New York city, Mrs. Myron S. Hazen of Milton and Mrs. George Lange of Westwood, N. J., also one niece and three nephews. Funeral services will be held at the Lasher Funeral Home in Woodstock Friday at 2 p. m., conducted by the Rev. A. Walter Baker, pastor of the Lutheran Church. Burial in Woodstock cemetery.

Mrs. Josephine Gentile Christoforo, wife of Michael Christoforo, died Wednesday evening at her residence, 56 Tompkins street, after a long illness. The deceased moved to this city about nine years ago and was well known in the Ponckhockie section where she had lived. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Julius and Louis, of this city; three daughters, Mrs. Annie Salvatore and Mrs. Anthony Tarpey of New York city, and Mrs. Anthony Cecelia of this city. Funeral will be held from her late residence Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock where a Mass of requiem for the repose of her soul will be held. The body will be removed to 227 East 106th street in New York city. Burial will be Monday morning in Calvary cemetery at that address.

Alfred N. Rapp, for some 40 years or more engaged in the grocery business in Ellenville, until his retirement about eight years ago, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert R. Graham, Middletown, Wednesday evening. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Minnie Eckert of Ellenville, the daughter at whose home he died, and three grandchildren. A son, Dr. John W. Rapp, died some years ago. Mr. Rapp had been in failing health for some months past. In his earlier years he was employed as a cutter in the Ulster Knife Works at Ellenville. Mr. Rapp took over the grocery business established by the old Knights of Labor and later went into business for himself. He established an enviable reputation for honesty and reliability in business and as a purveyor of the best grade of merchandise. As a member of the Methodist Church he carried into his religious life the same enthusiasm and energy that he displayed in other walks of life. He was a popular teacher of a boys class in the Sunday school and for some time was interested in the conduct of a Sunday school at Oak Ridge near Ellenville. He was one of the original members of the old Clayton Band in Ellenville, having taken up the study of the clarinet, on which he became a more than ordinarily proficient player. He also was a life member of Wawarsing Lodge, No. 582, F. & A. M., having been raised in that lodge in October, 1896. News of his death will be heard with very keen regret by a wide circle of friends, particularly those of the older generation in Ellenville where he and Mrs. Rapp have continued to make their home since his retirement from active business.

DISORDERS IN AMSTERDAM APPEAR AS BIG NEWS

Incidents Show Revolt Is Growing

Under-Cover Sabotage and Non-Cooperation Are Becoming More Noticeable

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The bloody clashes between the police in Nazi occupied Amsterdam, Holland, and Dutch "disturbances of the peace," is perhaps the most important of the big news events of the past twenty-four hours.

Its significance lies in the fact that it is the rash which tells us of a malady that is taking a hold on Europe—a growing opposition to the overlordship of Germany. We don't hear much of this, because of fear and censorship, but if you watch carefully you will see that it is there.

Thus far the occupations have been accepted in most countries with a smouldering, passive resistance, but in many cases this has broken out into active opposition to the Nazi conquerors. Under-cover sabotage and refusal to cooperate with the German administration long has been apparent in numerous countries—notably Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Holland and France.

Similar to Chinese Acts

The point of all this is, of course, that quite apart from any active resistance, a refusal by the civilian population to cooperate with the overlords means that government and industry cannot function properly. This has been one of the chief weapons of the Chinese against the Japanese invaders—refusal to cooperate. It is one of Herr Hitler's gravest dangers. My tip is to watch it if you would know how the conquest of Europe goes.

Much more sensational report seem to be the announcement that German troops are in action in Italian Libya and have clashed with the British south of Benghazi. Still, I personally can't give that very high rating in military importance at this juncture. The Fascists have made the most of the news, presumably to cheer up the Italian public, but the German communiqué recorded a "skirmish" between "German and English motorized reconnaissance squads." In other words there has been a small spat among a handful of men.

There has been no indication that the Germans have managed to smuggle any large number of troops through the British blockade. No threat has appeared thus far to the very strong British position.

Whether the moral effect on the Italian people will be good remains to be seen. They may raise the question as to whether the appearance of Germans to bolster the fallen fortunes of the great Marshal Graziani doesn't in effect write the epitaph of Italy's African empire.

Food for Reflection

Certainly they will have further food for reflection when they learn that the British have captured Mogadiscio, capital of Italian Somaliland, thereby apparently gaining control of the whole big territory. This is the first entire colony to be claimed by the British.

Another Italian loss cropped up in an unexpected spot yesterday when the British occupied the island of Castellorosso, close to the Turkish coast and the easternmost of Rome's strategic Dodecanese Islands. Castellorosso is a seaplane base.

It wouldn't be surprising to see the British try to take over more of these Italian islands. They would be of vast military value if the Germans struck through Bulgaria or Turkey. Possession of Castellorosso would be of great assistance in an attack on the other islands.

Such a move would be popular with Turkey which long has been anxious about these Italian bases right up against her coast. When I was in Turkey a couple of years ago I found the Turks gravely suspicious of Mussolini, believing he had designs on their Anatolian territory.

Vastly important are the conversations which have just opened in Ankara between the Turks and British envoys. Britain's foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, and General Sir John Dill, chief of the British imperial general staff, arrived there yesterday to discuss what the Anglo-Turkish attitude is to be if the Germans make a drive through Bulgaria.

Much will depend on the attitude of the Turks, who have been stoutly declaring their intention to stand by their defensive alliances with both Greece and Britain.

Sons of Legion

The Sons of Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will hold rehearsal at 7:15 o'clock at the Legion Memorial Building. All having bugles are requested to attend.

Britain's blind warmly welcomed 300,000 phonograph needles donated by blind owners of talking books in the United States.

Takes Over

Airforce General Friedrich Christian Christiansen, German military commander at the Hague in the Netherlands, ordered a military administration on the province of North Holland because of strikes and riots in Amsterdam. It was officially announced in Amsterdam that six civilians were killed and a number wounded in clashes between the police and "disturbances of the peace."

Germans Report Cruising Planes Sink Nine Ships

Three Others Were Badly Damaged and Four More Were Struck at Point Off Ireland

Berlin, Feb. 27 (AP)—The German high command reported in a special communiqué today that "long-range planes carried out a daring attack in which nine ships were sunk and three others so heavily damaged that their loss is assumed; four other ships suffered heavy hits."

The high command announcement did not include details, but authorized sources said the score in this attack, carried out on a convoy yesterday, 315 miles off the west coast of Ireland, included: Nine cargo ships of 58,000 tons sunk, three ships of 23,500 tons heavily damaged and four others totaling 21,000 tons less seriously damaged.

12 Bombers Downed
Informed Nazis asserted that 12 R. A. F. bombers and pursuit planes were downed in airfights over the English Channel and the French coast yesterday and last night. At least 12 other British craft were believed destroyed in raids on England, these informants said.

Combined German and Italian air units in an attack against Luca airport, on the Mediterranean Island of Malta, destroyed 10 British bombing planes on the ground and seriously damaged a number of others, the high command reported.

In air battles it said German fighters shot down four challenging British planes and the Italians two.

Today's communiqué said also that German battle planes sank one 4,000-ton freighter in the Mediterranean and set a destroyer afire in the harbor at British occupied Tobruk, Libya.

In last night's attacks the high command said London and Cardiff were bombed heavily, with large fires started in harbor districts of both cities.

British planes attacking western Germany last night were declared to have "planlessly dropped bombs" mostly on villages, killing a number of civilians and wounding many. "Only slight damage to non-military buildings" was caused by the British, the official announcement said.

Valuable Shipments

Arrive From Vladivostok

San Francisco, Feb. 27 (AP)—Gold bullion valued at approximately $12,000,000 and valuable consignments of furs were unloaded yesterday from two Soviet Russian freighters, the Tbilisi and the Transbaik, both arrived from Vladivostok.

The cargoes were said to be the most valuable shipped to the United States since Russia became a large-scale purchaser of machine tools, oils and other United States goods.

The arrivals increased the number of Soviet ships docked here to seven. Several are tied up for repairs. It was reported in maritime circles that Russian shipyards are jammed with naval construction and no merchant marine work is being handled.

Surprised by a night watchman, a thief in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, dropped his booty and fled, and the watchman recovered $600 worth of jewels and a bunch of bananas, all of which he returned intact to their owners.

Berlin Has Theory 'British Agitators' Are in Netherlands

Landings by Parachutes. Swift Motorboats Are Suggested; 6 Persons Killed, Many Held

Berlin, Feb. 27 (AP)—The possibility that "British agitators" are being landed in the Netherlands by parachutes and swift motorboats at night was suggested in Berlin today.

A Nazi spokesman declared, however, that the effectiveness of such operations was limited and that measures being taken by German military authorities to suppress disorders in Amsterdam and Rotterdam were proving adequate. "There is no preventing parachutists from landing and some boats might reach the coast," the spokesman said, "but no big vessel with upwards of 1,000 agents could land. We see to that."

"At any rate, disturbances in Holland which led to a number of deaths and institution of a military administration in one province (north Holland) are not to be regarded as a great political development. It is a little incident which cannot possibly cause any serious trouble."

Easy to Explain

"Psychologically, the behavior of the Dutch is easy to explain: The country is occupied by a foreign power, and if such occupation is by God or devil resentment in some quarters is inevitable and Germany thoroughly appreciates the situation—which the Reich had no wish to impose on blameless Dutch citizens."

"Under the circumstances, of course, the low countries are a fertile ground for agitators. We are striving by patience to demonstrate the uselessness of opposition and we hope the Dutch people will find the way to its rational leaders rather than look to the ghetto or England for leadership."

The German idea apparently was that Jews were chiefly responsible for the disorders, but the spokesman said there were other "dark elements," including British agents.

"Depend upon it," he said, "the counter measures will be sharp enough to be effective with the greatest promptness."

Six Persons Die In Clashes

Amsterdam, the Netherlands (via Berlin), Feb. 27 (AP)—Clashes between civilians and German military police yesterday brought death to at least six persons and injuries to several others.

A "great number of persons responsible for the disturbances or having participated therein" were arrested, a brief German announcement said last night.

It declared the clashes occurred when civilians fought police taking action against "the ringleaders of nightly attacks against the police patrol and a secret Jewish organization."

The outbreak followed strikes and riots which brought a declaration of martial law for the province of North Holland, including its principal city, Amsterdam.

Bronx Man Pleads Guilty and Gets Chance in Court

William Victor Krell of the Bronx appeared in county court Wednesday afternoon and changed a former not guilty plea to one of guilty to the charge of abandonment. Moses Kobe appeared for Krell.

Judge J. Edward Conway sentenced Krell to one year in the Ulster county jail but suspended execution of sentence during good behavior and directed that the defendant report to Probation Officer Lawrence M. Jensen. One of the conditions of probation was that Krell continue to provide for the support of his family as he has been doing.

Strange Light Is Seen

Ball of Fire Slashes Across Northern Sky

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—A large, vari-colored ball of fire sped across the northern sky last night, setting watchers wondering from central and western New York to Philadelphia.

William T. Tracy, United States meteorologist at Syracuse, said the bright blue streak sighted traveling from north to south in that vicinity probably was a meteor.

Auto Industry Finishes Plane Units

No Censorship

Lowell Mellett, director of the office of government reports, asserted that the government is contemplating no press or radio censorship aside from the customary military censorship in the event of war.

New York Housing Bond Issue Is First Of New Releases

Money Will Finance Cost of Building Dwellings in Brooklyn Navy Yard District

The more than $19,000,000 issue of New York State Housing Bonds announced by Comptroller Tremaine's office today is the first under the new State Public Housing program and of major and immediate importance to the progress of that program, according to Edward Weinfeld, state commissioner of housing. The bond issue, which will finance the construction of Fort Greene houses in the Navy Yard section of Brooklyn, New York, which will replace one of the city's worst slum areas and provide modern, safe and sanitary homes for 3,500 low income families.

Particular importance attaches to this sale, Commissioner Weinfeld said, because the rate at which the bonds are sold is expected to make possible a significant reduction in the expected rentals. Because of New York state's excellent credit position and the popularity among investors of housing bonds issued by other governmental agencies, it is anticipated that these bonds will go at an interest rate considerably lower than had been under consideration when the plans for the housing project were drawn by the New York City Housing Authority.

"The Navy Yard district in Brooklyn has long been known as one of the worst blighted sections in the five boroughs," Commissioner Weinfeld said. "Demolition has virtually been completed of the 700 old dilapidated houses which occupied the 39 acres on which the project will be built, 99 per cent of which were definitely substandard, lacking adequate heat, sanitary arrangements, or badly in need of major repairs. The apartments will range from two to six rooms, with three and four room dwellings predominating. They will be designed to offer the maximum light, air and privacy and will be modern in every way, with fully equipped kitchens, including frigidaires and complete bathrooms. At convenient locations, there will be laundries and drying rooms for the use of tenants, as well as storage space for baby carriages and trunks. Playgrounds for small children will be provided at several points within the project."

To Give Cantata

Next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Trinity Methodist choir of Newburgh, under the leadership of John W. Nichols and with Miss Helen Crookston at the organ will give "The Hymn of Praise," a cantata by Felix Mendelssohn. The choir has been rehearsing the cantata for some time. It was postponed from last Sunday on account of a special town meeting. There is no admission charge and everyone is invited to attend.

To Give Show

The Ashokan Epworth League will hold a variety show in the lecture room of the Ashokan Methodist Church Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be on sale.

Prayer Meeting Slated

The regular weekly cottage prayer meeting of the Nazarene Young People's Society, will be held at the home of Walter French, 167 Bryan avenue, Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Japan Orders All Nationals Prepare To Quit Indo-China

Move Is Believed Design to Strengthen Tokyo in Negotiating Thai Peace Proposals

Tokyo, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Japanese government ordered Japanese residents of French Indo-China today to be prepared to depart and informed observers expressed belief the action was a diplomatic maneuver intended to strengthen Japan's hand during the next few days should the Thailand-Indo-China peace negotiations collapse.

Authoritative sources said the success or failure of the conference was likely to be determined within the next 48 hours and were not too optimistic over the prospects.

(In Shanghai, Domei Japanese news agency, reported in a dispatch from Tokyo, that it had learned authoritatively that Japan had ordered Japanese residents to leave Indo-China immediately to give Japan a free hand in the event the peace conference failed.)

Authoritative sources said French Ambassador Charles Arsene Henry visited the Japanese foreign office shortly after the government issued the instructions. It was reported that he had indicated a willingness for further consultations on Japan's peace proposals in the Thailand-Indo-China dispute.

Attitude Is Expected

He also was said to have indicated that Vichy's attitude on the peace proposals now pending might be forthcoming tomorrow.

Domei said that Luang Vichitr Vadakar, minister without portfolio in the Thailand government, had arrived in Tokyo to attend the peace conference with "special instructions" as a representative of Thailand's premier, Luang Biplu Songgram.

Releasé circles said the French peace delegation in Tokyo was considering protesting a "breach of diplomatic etiquette" because the press disclosed terms of the peace proposal before they had been received in Vichy.

The newspaper Asahi editorialized recently that "Thailand's demands must not be too heavy," indicating semi-official Japanese opinion that the original territorial demands were unacceptable.

No Concessions Mentioned

The tone of the press today indicated the present proposals are the least Japan can induce Thailand to accept. No concessions to Thailand are mentioned.

(The Japanese order followed an editorial chorus by four leading Japanese-language newspapers, Nichi Nichi, Yomiuri, Hochi and Chugai, today echoing Asahi's statement yesterday that the Tokyo peace conference seeking settlement of the Thailand-French Indo-China border dispute "has entered into the most delicate stage" following Japan's submission of "what is regarded as its final mediation plan.")

(Comments from the newspaper Kokumin, which is considered close to the Japanese army, said that "it is understood that appropriate Japanese measures will be unavoidable" should either Thailand or French Indo-China turn down the mediation plan.)

As outlined in the press, the peace plan would require Indo-China to cede large sections in Laos and Cambodia, along the Mekong river, which Thailand asserts were taken from her between 1893 and 1904. No concessions by Thailand are mentioned.

Charles Galas Awaits

Action of Grand Jury

Charles Galas, arrested at Ellenville on a warrant charging grand larceny in the first degree, waived examination when arraigned before M. D. Schoonmaker, acting police justice and was brought to the Ulster county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Galas was arrested following the disappearance of $100 said to have been contained in a wallet which had been placed underneath the counter at the Busy Bee restaurant conducted by Lewis Gillespie in Ellenville. The wallet, which disappeared about half an hour before closing time, later was found in another room, but the money was missing Galas had been about the place during the evening.

The defendant had been discharged Tuesday from the Shamrock restaurant where he had been employed for four months. For the better part of a year previous to that he was employed at Drucker's summer hotel in Ellenville.

Fire Blocks Traffic on Chicago 'L'

The fire, which did an estimated $150,000 damage to a paint company housed in the five-story building, held up traffic on Chicago's elevated railway system and caused thousands of office workers to be late to work. Seventy pieces of fire-fighting apparatus and a fireboat fought the blaze. Some of the firemen attacked the flames from the elevated structure.

Japanese Say 20,000 Chinese Troops Are Landed in Burma

Weather Men Draw 6-Month Duty Tour On a Desert Island

New Orleans, La. (AP)—For the next six months New Orleans will be the food pipeline to two men shut up on a little Caribbean island, a thousand miles away, to do a job for Uncle Sam.

The men, Neil B. Ward, 26, and George Grover, 25, are United States Weather Bureau workers. On Swan Island, 100 miles north-east of Honduras, they will make observations and supply surface and upper air data on the temperature, pressure and wind. Both volunteered for the job.

The island, where ships stop only at six-week intervals, is uninhabited except for a few occasional native visitors. Personal messages by radio can be sent through the same channels as weather reports. United Fruit Company ships will take the men fresh food regularly from New Orleans. They reached the island late in February.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Feb. 27—The annual Valentine party of the local school was a success. The West Shokan School and the Bushkill school were dinner guests of the Ladies' Aid Society last Wednesday.

The school guests gave a program of songs. A program was given for Bill of Rights Week at the morning assembly Friday. The supervisor of the Junior Town Citizen Club gave a reading on the Bill of Rights and an interesting manner traced the European background and the events that led to adoption of them in this country. The members gave a play entitled "The Constitution and the Bill of Rights Come to Life." "A Good Citizen's Alphabet," a dialogue was given. The trustee, Mrs. Charles H. Weidner, was present, and at the close of the exercises presented the pupils with their certificates for participating in the recent national diagnostic achievement penmanship test.

Mrs. Louisa Van Kleeck of Broadhead recently entertained visitors from out of town.

Program Is Speeded Up Over Nation

Machines Which Were Used for Turning Out Car Forgings Being Used for Shells

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Detroit, Feb. 27 (AP)—The automobile industry has begun shipment of sub-assembly unit for airplanes.

Machines designed and built for automobile forgings are ramming out shell blanks.

Plants for the production of more aviation engines and other machines of war are being speeded to completion in Detroit, Dearborn, South Bend, Chicago, Indianapolis and other points.

Machine tools required by the thousands are being delivered on schedule to plants nearest completion.

These are a few excerpts from a summarization of the motorcar industry's progress on defense work, compiled by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association and made public today.

Packard Will Be Ready

The report said Packard will be ready by early summer to start production on the first of 9,000 Rolls-Royce aircraft engines it is to build for the United States and Great Britain. Six hundred men already are at work building trial engines.

The new Ford aviation plant will be ready next month with production to start in the spring and reach volume proportions in August.

Chrysler, the survey shows, will start rolling out 25-ton army tanks by early fall, well ahead of schedule.

General Motors' Allison division, which produced 350 aircraft engines this month, is aiming at 1,000 a month.

Packard marine engines are going into the Navy's torpedo boats at the rate of 10 a week.

Shells Are Being Made

Automobile forge plants, machining departments and stamping plants in Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Toledo and other points are tackling production of shells of many types, shell castings, fuses, and percussion caps, and others are busy on parts for big gun and designing sample weapons for the Army.

Hudson Motor Car Company is building a $13,000,000 arsenal for production of gun and torpedo parts and ammunition components for the Navy and already is making the auto components.

The auto industry's production lines are rolling off 13,000 Army motor vehicles a month. This rate will be boosted to 20,000 monthly as the Army's expansion calls for them.

No Trace of Hangover

Richmond, Va. (AP)—A one-time federal prisoner out on parole called by long distance telephone to tell Carroll Minor, chief probation officer, that he was drunk and wanted to get back in the penitentiary. Advised by the officer that a warrant couldn't be obtained until the next day, the probationer pleaded he might sober up and change his mind. He did.

If a dog could pray, here is about what he would say in the words of Gertrude Day Howell:

"Lord, make my master faithful to his fellowmen, as I am to him. Grant that he may be devoted to Thee, his friends and his family as I am to him. May he be open-faced and unpretentious and as true to trust reposed in him as I am to his. Give him a face cheerful like unto mine, that awaits his footsteps uncomplainingly for hours. Fill him with my watchfulness, my courage and my readiness to sacrifice comfort for life. Keep him always young in heart and crowded with spirit of play even as I. Make him worthy of me, his dog."

Judge—What is the defendant's reputation for veracity?

Witness—Excellent, your honor. I've known him to admit that he'd been fishing all day and hadn't got a single bite.

One advantage of poverty is that it does not owe the tax collector much.

Mrs. Noowood—Will you admire me when I'm old, dear?

Noowood—Why not? Nowadays a grandmother looks as chic as anybody.

If somebody stops to listen attentively to what you are saying, that's a real compliment to you. Don't spoil the compliment by talking too long.

Right here we will change the subject by the use of some striking definitions which I picked up somewhere:

Dreamer—One who casts the anchor of his hopes in the harbor of a dream.

Self—What you are when you think nobody is looking.

Gentleman—One who can disagree without being disagreeable.

Drudge—A man with a task and without a vision, while a visionary is a man with a vision without a task.

A man with an active mind can avoid much of the cankerous process of worry by keeping busy. As we must keep at work, we don't have much time to worry. When we are idle we can devote our whole time to it.

Boogy—Isn't it strange! My best ideas come to me while I am washing my hands.

Woogy—Say, old man, why don't you take a bath?

The greatest argument in the world for advertising is the eternal fact that to the man who dares not know about you, you do not exist.

Teacher—What animal is satisfied with the least nourishment?

Robert—The moth, teacher. It eats nothing but holes.

Many carefully devised plans fail in execution merely because they are not carried out as carefully and thoroughly as they are planned.

Mother—Now Honeybunch, eat up your rice, like a good boy.

Honeybunch—I don't like rice.

Mother—Well, just pretend you like it.

Honeybunch—No, I'll just pretend to eat it.

One of the most important principles we should follow is the principle of common sense.

Zoole—Spouter says all the proposed ways to increase the purchasing power of the masses are so much foolishness.

Kulper—Is he an authority on purchasing power?

Zoole—No, but he's an authority on foolishness.

We hear a lot about folks going in debt in efforts to "keep up with the Joneses." However, the Joneses likely are going in debt trying to keep ahead of the folks who are trying to keep up with the Joneses.

Mikhail—When you have an argument at your house, does your wife take part?

Harefoot—No, she takes all of it.

ALONG CAME CINDERELLA

By VIVIAN GREY

Chapter 20
Two Tragedies

"TAKE me back to the cottage, Roger," Lovely said dully. "Take me back."

Roger didn't ask what had happened. He didn't have to.

Next morning, up earlier than usual, they heard the news about Pedro from the pretty maid who padded about in bare feet, caring for their cottage. Pedro had killed himself the night before.

At noon Roger and Lovely stood on the cliff above the ocean. "You were right, Roger," she said as she finished the story of what had happened at the night club. "You always are. How do you keep your life so sane and steady and poised all of the time?"

Roger didn't answer. It would have been cruel to say what he thought just then.

"Take me home, Roger," she said softly. "Take me home to your mother. I want to see her."

So they did not meet the Perrys in Mexico. But they heard of them the day Roger brought Lovely home, more beautiful than even with her skin gorgeously tanned by Mexican sun. A more worldly look in her large brown eyes lent them an extra enchantment. She was somehow smooth and polished. Travel and possession of enough money to do exactly as she wished had given her assurance.

That day Roger and Lovely walked into his mother's sitting room, and Marcia looked up from her New York paper with a cry of alarm on her lips.

"Oh, Roger look!" were her first words. "Poor Emily! Now I know why they went in that worn-out old car. They planned it. They must have. How horrible!"

"What is it?" There was a tense note in Roger's voice. He took the paper from his mother and glanced at the headlines. Lovely watched his face grow pale and saw a strange look come into his eyes.

"We must get in touch with Emily and have her come here," Marcia said. "I see it all now. That's why Della was so anxious about Emily."

"Poor Emily," Roger said gently. "Yes, we must have her here."

Then his mother's voice came quickly again. "Lovely darling! Forgive me!" and she held out her arms to the girl, who went into them gratefully. "I'm so glad to have you and Roger back. It's good to see you, darling. Good! And how much more beautiful you are!"

Roger took Marcia in his arms then.

"And its good to be home, mother," a deep note of happiness ran through his words.

Lovely caught it. Roger had sent roots down deep into his home soil. She had nothing like that. There had been no soil to take root in, in any of the places her life had known. Walking through the wide and pleasant hall toward the stair Lovely was oppressed by a sense of lack, of loneliness. For no reason at all she felt like an outsider.

But upstairs in the suite Marcia had given them the weight lifted. "Your mother's sweet, Roger," she said. "It's sweet of her to have done this," taking in the beauty of the sitting room that had been done over with her comfort in mind.

"Mother's always that way," Roger said. "She loves doing things for people. That's been her life. Just the lovely, social side of things."

Then with one of her lightning changes of mood Lovely demanded: "Love me much as ever?"

"Darling, I'm as helpless as an oyster on the half shell before your charms!"

"What was it about Emily? Why is she coming here?" Lovely asked then.

"What was it about Emily? Why is she coming here?" Lovely asked then.

Bitter Truth

ROGER hesitated. He found it difficult to talk about Emily. "Her mother and father have committed suicide," he said slowly. "Right there within a stone's throw of our honeymoon cottage. Or at least it looked like suicide. No one will ever know, really."

"But I thought they were vacationing?"

"So they were and that's when they did it. On their vacation right there in Acapulco where we were. They drove right through the center of town, and just kept on going."

Lovely's eyes widened with horror.

"You mean," she started to ask, "that cliff? Why they couldn't—"

"That's just it. They did. They kept on going."

Lovely read every word of the story with its screaming headlines. She had all of the tabloids brought in and sat looking at the pictures of Emily, her mother and father. Of their estate so close by. She read over and over again how their big car had climbed up the hill.

ARDONIA

Ardonia, Feb. 27—The card party which was held at the home of Mrs. Edith Githero and Palmer Tubbs at Plattkill Tuesday evening was a decided success. Twelve tables of pinocle were played.

Members of the E. G. Palmer family are recovering from a recent attack of illness.

Miss Ratie Paltridge of Newburgh visited relatives in this place recently.

A declamation contest will be a feature of the next P. T. A. meeting to be conducted March 17.

A card and game party will be held March 4 at the home of Miss Irene Siskler in Clintondale. Eugene Paltridge is on jury duty in Kingston this week.

R. J. Wager of Modena sawed wood for Gershom Mount Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jensen entertained guests from Brooklyn over the week-end.

Mrs. Gershom Mount and grandsons attended movies at New Paltz Saturday.

She read how it passed the brow and plunged into the little park with the natives calling to them to stop. They had bounced over the concrete wall. Observers said they sat like two people carved in marble. Only the car seemed alive as it gathered speed. There was no sound from them as they went over the cliff.

The heavy car dropped to the ledge below, shattering a concrete wall. But the two people in it were catapulted into the water that dashed and churned on the rocks below. Their bodies had not been found.

"But why? Why would they do a thing like that?" Lovely asked Roger insistently. "I can't see any reason just because their daughter didn't marry the man they intended to. Lots of engagements are broken. Engagements don't mean so much."

And Roger could only say: "I wouldn't know, angel. I wouldn't know."

"I feel almost as if I'd killed them," Roger said. She shivered slightly as she stood at the window and looked out over the beauty of the Cosgrave place with shrubbery and trees beginning to hint of fall.

"You shouldn't, honey bee," Roger put his arm around her and rested his cheek against her hair. "You had nothing to do with it. People make their own lives."

Lovely turned to him impulsively.

"Oh, Roger—if you should ever stop loving me—want someone else—"

His kiss silenced water else she would have said.

"That time will never come," he said solemnly.

Lovely dressed for dinner that night. Roger glanced at her in surprise. He'd forgotten to tell her they didn't dress for family dinner in the country. And she looked so beautiful that it made it right. Lovely had a gift for clothes that would enchant a masculine public. She knew instinctively how to wear them. And she loved them with something that was more than vanity.

Roger was grateful to Marcia when he saw that she too had put on something extra. She must, he realized, have been aware that Lovely was dressing and so had tactfully dressed herself. That would be Marcia.

Cosgrave looked a trace startled at the magnificence of his ladies and then complimented them both.

"That was sweet of your father," Lovely said afterwards to Roger. "I mean to compliment your mother." It shed light on a different life, this middle aged man still saying pleasant, complimentary things.

That evening Lovely trailed Roger about the place. She went to the kennels with him for a last look at the Bedingtons and Kerry Blues. She brushed their soft coats and was pleased by the adoration in their soft brown eyes as they looked up at her. She picked up Streak's puppies, limp with sleep, and cooed over them. Roger watched, pleased.

"Streak's honoring you," he said. "She wouldn't let many people pick up one of her babies. She's a very careful mother."

Late Visitors

IT was later that night the cards Lovely had sent her friends announcing the date of her homecoming bore fruit.

The Cosgrave mansion was wrapped in the shadows of night and the silence of sleep as a car turned uncertainly in the drive.

"This the place?" a voice asked out of the darkness.

"Yeah! Look at them gates! Lovely sure got herself a sweet set up!"

"Ye-ah boy! When Lovely sees us!"

The car picked up speed. A second one turned into the drive and then a third. They began a great honking, a sort of rhythmic salute. Voices in hilarious song broke sharply into the soft stillness of early autumn night. And the singing gathered in volume until it rose raucously under the windows of the Cosgrave mansion.

In the house Lovely stirred in her sleep. Her dream of the old days in the city had been so vivid that she had actually heard voices. She listened. She wasn't dreaming. It dawned on her slowly. Those were real voices she heard.

She slipped out of bed and went to the window. Leaning out she called brightly:

"Hi-yah! Hi-yah gang!"

She turned back to Roger then. He was sitting up in bed, his night light on. He had intended saying he'd go down and ask them to come back some other time for their party, but the frank delight on Lovely's face stayed the words.

Lovely was pulling on a soft velvet robe, fastening a large ornamental buckle at her slim waist when Marcia's voice spoke at their door.

"Roger what is it?" she asked. "Some friends of Lovely's?"

Roger said quietly:

"The kids."

"The kids?" Lovely's voice rippled with happiness. "I'm going down to let them in. Hurry darling. Hurry!"

Roger was getting up slowly. "I suppose I must," he said grinning ruefully at his mother. "But you go back to bed, dear."

"I'll do nothing of the kind, Roger," Marcia said brightly. She was smiling at her son. "I'm going down and meet them and rustle up something for them to eat. They're Lovely's friends. If they've come from the city they've had a long ride and they'll be hungry."

Found Dead

Michael Borislavsky, onetime colonel in the Russian Imperial army, was found shot to death in uptown New York, shortly after authorities said his newly perfected aerial torpedo had been accepted by the U. S. war department. Borislavsky appears at top in a recent photo, and below he was an officer.

Central Hudson Plans $13,265,000 Refunding

It was announced today by E. A. Acker, president of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., that the company has filed a petition with the State Public Service Commission requesting authority to issue and sell $13,265,000, principal amount of its first mortgage bonds, three per cent series due 1971, to refund all of the company three and one-half bonds outstanding in an equivalent amount. Subject to approval of the Public Service Commission, arrangements have been made for the sale of the new issue to a group of institutional buyers at a price of $105 plus accrued interest.

The Sentry Stews

Camp Shelby, Miss. (AP)—The rookie sentry, heckled to the point of desperation by soldiers giving fictitious names when challenged, decided to take the matter in hand. So when a "Major Moses" answered his challenged, he promptly ordered: "Advance Moses and recite the 10 commandments." The man who stepped up was a REAL Major Moses. And to add to the sentry's confusion he promptly recited each and every one of the commandments.

HELD IN GREAT NECK SLAYING

Police escort Thomas Gallagher, 31, (light coat) from the home of Mrs. Mary Gerken in Great Neck, where John Gormley, 34-year-old riding master, was found shot to death after a party. Nassau county police held Gallagher on a first-degree manslaughter charge.

Questioned

Mrs. Mary Gerken was detained as a material witness and questioned regarding the death by shooting of John Gormley, 34, a riding master, in Mrs. Gerken's Great Neck, N. Y., home. Thomas Gallagher, 31, was held on first-degree manslaughter charges.

County Clerk Is Rotary Speaker

R. Snyder Outlines Duties of Office; Rotary to Observe 25 Years

Robert A. Snyder, county clerk of Ulster, spoke on the duties of a county clerk at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club held Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel. James F. Loughran, program chairman, introduced Mr. Snyder.

In outlining the work of the county clerk's office, the speaker mentioned as one of the jobs coming under the clerk was the motor vehicle bureau, which collected in the neighborhood of about $450,000 annually. The total amount of moneys handled yearly was between $500,000 and $600,000. This work was seasonal but it was real when the rush was on. One of the impossibilities of that branch of the work, he stated, was the satisfying of about 22,000 license plate purchasers with low numbers, when he had about 500 to distribute.

As a keeper of all the important records of the county, County Clerk Snyder mentioned the antiquity of the deeds filed and the frequent requests from historical societies and colleges for information concerning deeds. Besides the deeds and mortgages, other important documents and legal instruments are in the possession of the county clerk's office. Among the other duties described he told of the work of the county clerk as clerk of the county court.

President Al Kurdt announced that committees were working on an appropriate program for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Kingston Rotary Club. The anniversary celebration will be held on Wednesday, March 26.

No More Secrets

Oslo, Norway (AP)—The oath of secrecy taken by priests, solicitors, doctors and civil officials has been cancelled "in the interests of state" by Jonas Lie, Norwegian minister of justice.

Fearing higher prices and difficulty in obtaining raw materials because of the United States defense program requirements, manufacturers of Chile increased their orders for American products when the news of the program reached Chile.

Annual World Day Of Prayer to Be Held Here Friday

The annual World Day of Prayer will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. John's Episcopal Church. Women of city and vicinity churches and religious organizations will unite in a service of prayer and song, similar to that being used by other groups of women throughout the world. The service in Kingston this year is under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Church.

Taking part in the service will be representatives from St. James Methodist Church, the First Presbyterian Church, Reformed Church of the Comforter, Trinity Lutheran Church, Ponckhockie Congregational Church, Trinity Methodist Church, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Young Men's Christian Association, Fair Street Reformed Church, Wurts Street Baptist Church, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Franklin Street A. M. Zion Church, Port Ewen Methodist Church, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, the Salvation Army, Port Ewen Reformed Church, Emanuel Baptist Church, Hurley Reformed Church, St. Mark's A. M. Church, Alliance Gospel Church, Rondout Presbyterian Church, Albany Avenue Baptist Church, Women's Christian Temperance Union, and First Reformed Church.

A representative from each church will sing in the choir. The committee requests that all women planning to be in the choir meet at the church not later than 2:45 o'clock. The representatives from each church taking part in the services are requested to take seats in the front of the church.

DAILY MENUS

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE These are fine surprise dishes.

Dinner Serving Four
Oyster Stuffed Potatoes
Buttered Kale
Bread Plum Butter
Cabbage Surprise Salad
Date Puffs Orange Pudding Sauce

Oyster Stuffed Potatoes
4 baked potatoes
2 tablespoons cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1 cup thick white sauce
1/2 cup small oysters
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
Cut potatoes in halves, remove and mash the pulp. Add cream, salt and celery salt to potatoes and beat until very fluffy (if too dry add a little milk). Fill potato cases with white sauce and oysters, mixed. Lightly cover with potatoes. Bake 15 minutes.

Cabbage Surprise Salad
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups boiling water
4 tablespoons salad dressing
1 cup chopped cabbage
1/2 cup seeded grapes (or cherries)
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar
Dissolve the gelatin in water. Cool and add rest of ingredients. Chill until firm. Unfold on crisp lettuce and top with more dressing.

Date Puffs
4 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup dark brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt

Lighter And Brighter Meals For Lent

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

Lenten meals can be brightened as well as lightened. With a little planning, one can work out a sprightly array of meatless menus which, among other things, reduce the strain on the budget.

The old reliable meat substitutes—eggs, cheese, fish, nuts, peas and beans—are good body builders, but they deserve dressing up with a pert sauce, a gay garnish or what have you.

EGGS SUPREME give hard cooked eggs, covered with pungent tomato sauce. Place 6 hard cooked eggs, halved, in a shallow, buttered baking dish. Cover with tomato sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered crumbs. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

EGGS, in partnership with VEGETABLES, make a filling main dish easy to make and on the economy side. Melt 3 tablespoons of butter and add 4 tablespoons flour. Blend and pour in 2 cups milk, cook slowly and stir constantly until creamy. Season with a teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon each of chopped onions, parsley, celery salt and paprika. Add 1 cup boiled rice, 1 cup cooked carrots, 1/2 cup grated cheese. Bake 25 minutes in a buttered casserole in a moderate oven.

MACARONI MOLD gets high rating for a meatless dinner. Mix together 4 cups cooked macaroni, 1 cup soft bread, 1 tablespoon each chopped onions, parsley and celery, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 3 eggs, beaten, 1 1/2 cups hot milk, 3 tablespoons butter, and 1/4 cup catsup. Pour into a buttered mold (ring or loaf). Bake an hour in a moderate oven. Let stand 5 minutes and carefully unmold and top with cheese or tomato or mushroom sauce.

For the busy homemaker who welcomes dishes that can be made up in the morning for later baking, BRUNSWECK MACARONI AND CHEESE hit the mark. Mix 2 1/2 cups sliced cheese into 3 cups creamy white sauce, well seasoned.

Stir until cheese has melted. Add 4 cups salted, cooked macaroni, 1 cup sliced mushrooms and 1/4 cup chili sauce. Bake 45 minutes in buttered baking dish in moderate oven. Bake spiced apples to accompany the macaroni and also have hot corn sticks or corn muffins.

CORN OYSTER SOUFFLE offers a grand new dinner treat. Mix 2 cups corn and 1 cup small oysters into 2 cups thick, well seasoned white sauce. Beat in 4 yolks and add 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons each chopped parsley and pimientos and 4 beaten egg whites. Pile into a buttered baking dish and sprinkle with chopped ripe olives. Bake 50 minutes in a moderate oven (305).

Vegetable Scramble
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onions
3 tablespoons minced celery
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 cup cooked green beans
4 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika

Melt butter in frying pan, add onions and celery and brown 2 minutes. Add rest of ingredients. Cook slowly and stir constantly until thick and creamy. Toss onto heated platter, sprinkle with chopped roasted peanuts and garnish with hot toast points and dress.

Flasher of Life
New York—Shuffling her cards, a tea room fortune teller sagely told Emma Gross: "You will soon visit a large building and sign some papers."

And so it came to pass. That very night, Policewoman Emma Gross visited Brooklyn-Queens night court—a large building—and signed "some papers" under which the fortune teller was held for the illegal practice.

Big Hearted Judge
Scranton, Pa.—Frank Pigga was fined $1 and sentenced to jail for one year after pleading guilty to the theft of dynamite caps.

Low Finance
Dallas—A Miami, Tex., school teacher paid her income tax with a penny. The government owes her six mills change.

Plundered Pants
Omaha, Neb.—Mrs. M. J. Goldsmith yelled loud enough to frighten the prowler whose flashlight awakened her.

But not soon enough to prevent the prowler from escaping with Mr. Goldsmith's pants, containing his billfold and $10.

Breakfast Party
Chicago—Joseph C. Costa has 100 gulls for breakfast each morning. Don't get it wrong—he doesn't eat them, he feeds 'em.

Costa, whose home borders Lake Michigan, threw some food to a gull three winters ago. Every winter morning since then the gull—no to mention about 100 feathered colleagues it invited in—appears for the breakfast handout.

Two vegetables in the space of one, or onions stuffed with peas. Boil the onions in salt water until tender. Drain, scoop out the center (save it for stew or soup) and fill the cavity with hot, creamed peas. Sprinkle with bread crumbs, dot with butter and brown under a broiler flame.

utes in a moderate oven (305).
Melt butter in frying pan, add onions and celery and brown 2 minutes. Add rest of ingredients. Cook slowly and stir constantly until thick and creamy. Toss onto heated platter, sprinkle with chopped roasted peanuts and garnish with hot toast points and dress.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 11 Has Party

A large audience of relatives, parents and friends of Boy Scouts, Troop No. 11, of St. James Methodist Church, enjoyed an evening of celebrating the fourth birthday of the troop, Tuesday evening, February 25.

A stage depicting an out-of-door company scene including tents, flags, a fireplace, sleeping bags, etc., greeted the guests as they entered the room. The party program was opened by all pledging allegiance to the American flag and a verse of the song "America." Assistant Scoutmaster Jack Spader, welcomed the guests and Scoutmaster Edgar Freese gave a brief report of the history of the Scout Troop, all of which proved interesting and enlightening to those present. This was followed by a Scout investiture ceremony, including Elwood A. Harper into Troop 11. During the evening moving pictures showing the life of a Scout during his hikes, his meeting nights and his camping days, were shown by DeWitt Wells.

Harry Rigby, district Scout commissioner, extended his greeting to the troop and hoped that the next four years would prove as successful as had the past four. He then presented the troop charter to the Scouts, along with each individual registration card for the new year. Scout Executive R. G. Burns, who was also present, extended his greeting to the boys for the coming year.

A large birthday cake, complete with candles, made and decorated by Mrs. J. R. Freese, was presented to the troop by Assistant Scoutmaster John Spader. The evening program was concluded by the Scouts repeating their Scout laws and all joining in singing "God Bless America." While two Scouts held the American flag and troop flag before the group. The entire program was arranged by the Junior Leaders and proved most interesting and inspiring to all. The Junior leaders are John Spader, William Kinch, Robert Winne and George Johnson. Cake and ice cream were served to the guests by the members of the Scout troop following the program.

Mannerheim's Diet

Copenhagen (AP)—The Finnish Field Marshal Mannerheim will get his special porridge, made of cracked buckwheat, after all. It was recommended as part of his diet by physicians but the war halted importation from England and America. Finns living in Denmark heard about the difficulty, bought up the small quantities available here, and sent it to him.

GRANGE NEWS

Huguenot

New Paltz, Feb. 27—Huguenot Grange was well attended Saturday evening and after the business session Jacob Schreiber spoke on possible changes in relief administration and plans for future events were discussed. The lecture hour arranged by Mrs. Robert Forshaw followed and began with a song by the Grange. Mrs. Lundrup read "The Perfect Tribute" (to Lincoln) by Mary Shipman Andrews. Mrs. S. McKeand Kevan sang "Kashmiri Indian Song" and "The Little Irish Girl" accompanied by Miss Blanche Gulnae at the piano. Daisy Kortright recited "In the Morning" and "Details." Five men also had a part in the program and were assigned the task of composing toasts to the ladies. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wood were host and hostess for the evening and with their committee served refreshments. The Grange will sponsor a dance Friday night, February 28, in Grange Hall beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The dances will include waltzes, fox trot, one step, Paul Jones and square sets. Between dances there will be cake and coffee available at moderate prices.

Roedell Planning Bill for Legion Anniversary Ball

Police Sergeant William T. Roedell, who has been appointed chairman of the American Legion birthday party by Commander Jerry Martin of Kingston Post, 150, today said that he hoped to present a sparkling program of entertainment, featuring a leading radio personality.

Sergeant Roedell, who as commander of Kingston Post, brought Charlie Barnett and his band to the city for one of the Victory balls, and presented Rudy Vallee and his band when he was president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, is now negotiating for the appearance of either Lanny Ross, Conrad Thibault of the Manhattan Merry-Go-Round, Romona, who used to be with Paul Whiteman, or Helen Kane, the original "Boop a Doop" girl of movie and radio fame, at the Legion Birthday Party. Tickets for the party will be limited to 400. The party will be held on Friday night, April 18, at one of the popular night clubs in this vicinity, named by the committee in the near future. The non-profit social is being arranged to celebrate the 22nd anniversary of the Legion and a real enjoyable event is promised by the committee to those who attend.

Splitting Hairs' With Precision a Business

To Hans Bock and his assistant, Kurt Stinner, there is nothing very unusual about their business of splitting hairs.

These hairs which Bock splits with complete precision are spider threads. He uses them in his Philadelphia shop for repairing precision instruments for many firms in this country.

Bock prefers tannish-brown spiders. He first gathers a few dozen cocoons in the weeds along a river, and then looks for live spiders. He usually finds them in holes bored in telephone poles.

When Bock yanks their webs the spiders start running. Bock catches them and feeds them on flies in his workshop for one or two days. Then he puts them to work by urging them to walk over a pencil or some other obstruction.

As the spider climbs down he begins releasing a thread. Immediately Bock holds the hind legs over the back of the spider to prevent it from cutting this thread. These hind legs are a spider's scissors.

Holding the insect between his thumb and forefinger Bock puts a dab of shellac on a six-inch reel, attaches the end of the thread to it, and starts winding. One spider gives about 100 feet of thread.

These spider threads, one ten-thousandth inch thick, are used as leaders in telescope sights.

SCREEN ACTOR WELCOMES MISS JAMES

Dorothy James, daughter of Pennsylvania's governor, denied engagement reports, and William Lundigan, film actor, said nothing, but here the two young folk are as Miss James arrived in Los Angeles for what she said was just a vacation. Rumors persisted that the college friends would wed.

Discuss Elements Most Needed for Tree Growth

In one easy lesson experts tell you how to put "oomph" in your grass and trees.

They agree that grass and trees thrive on what they eat and drink, and the care they get.

"The three elements most important for the tree growth are nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium," Boerner says. "The most satisfactory tree food will contain 10 per cent available nitrogen, 8 per cent available phosphorus and 6 per cent available potassium."

"A tree should get a good feeding once a year. Give it three-fourths of a pound of food for each inch of its circumference."

"To feed a tree, drill holes about two inches in diameter, 18 inches deep and 2½ feet apart in concentric circles beneath the tree.

"Start the outer circle at the outer limits of the branch spread and place the other circles so that all holes will be about the same distance apart."

"Distribute the food evenly among the holes, then fill with water and keep filled by intermittent watering for several days to soak the food into the soil and thus make it quickly available to the tree roots. The food is taken into the tree only when in solution with water. After a few days, fill the holes with soil."

C. G. E. Harker, new member of the New Zealand Parliament, was elected on his birthday which also was his silver wedding anniversary.

My Dear, How You Have Changed!

Red-haired Miss Sheridan has had two names, two careers and two faces in her young life. Once she was Clara Lou, and went out into the world from North Texas State Teachers College to be a school ma'am—and looked the part. Now she's Ann, the Hollywood "Oomph Girl," and looks that, too. It took seven years to make the transformation complete.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Church Group Meets

New Palz, Feb. 27—The February meeting of the Seekers class and home department met in the Methodist Church parlor Tuesday afternoon, February 25. The president, Mrs. John Christensen opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Elmer Bostock had charge of the devotion, which began with all singing, "Oh Beautiful For Spacious Skies." The rest of the service included scripture, a poem, "As Lincoln Prayed" by Gertrude L. Robinson and a closing prayer.

The business session followed with roll call and responses with verses or reading. Reports were given and letters from the Mercado family in the Philippine Islands and the Caine Creek community center in Kentucky were read. The sick committee reported making many calls. Mrs. Leslie Oakley took charge of the combined study and amusement program. Mrs. Frank Elliott read a poem, "Lincoln the Great Commoner" and "Lincoln's Rules for Living" and others. All sang the "Battle Hymn of Republic." Miss Margaret Newton presided at the piano.

Miss Edna Dugan read different observations of St. Valentine day and while reading, little Richard Davis appropriately dressed, stood by her side as the Spirit of St. Valentine. All sang "Love's Old Sweet Song." Mrs. Harry Oakley gave a reading with little Joan Oakley dressed as George Washington and little Nancy Stultz as Martha Washington posed with a cake decorated in red and white. As the reading ended, they marched away to the music of Yankee Doodle played by Miss Newton. Mrs. Alvin Beatty gave a reading on Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and his favorite poem, "The Village Blacksmith."

The committee served refreshments. The March meeting will be held in the church parlor. Those present at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Elmer Bostock, Miss Lila Paris, Mrs. Minnie Duryea, Mrs.

Find Century-Old Pump

Just off the old Waukesha trail, about half a mile west of the then swamp land that is now Milwaukee's downtown district, a pioneer farmer staked off his land, built a house and sunk a well.

About 100 years ago—the Juneaus and the Kilbourns were still feuding from their rival river bank settlements. Marquette university campus sprawls over much of the old farm property. Workers recently dug up the farm pump on newly acquired property of St. Catherine's school. Grading a small knoll, H. M. Vredenburg, janitor at the school, uncovered a huge stone which had been used to cover the well. Further investigation revealed a 30-foot shaft which housed the piping and piston of the pump. Constructed entirely of wood and coupled by hand forged metal rings, the pipe was found in nearly perfect condition. Hewn from 12-foot lengths of yellow poplar, the pipe has a two-inch bore and still contains the wood piston which brought water to the surface about a century ago.

War prices have brought prosperity to farmers of Japan, and financial authorities are trying to induce them to buy government bonds.

Atharhacton Hears Paper

Miss Louise W. van Hovenberg entertained the members of Atharhacton Club on Wednesday at her home on Wall street at the regular weekly meeting. The paper of the afternoon on Lopez de Varga, great 16th century Spanish dramatist, was presented by the hostess.

Miss van Hovenberg told of the many comedies, tragedies, religious plays, pastorals and epilogues written by de Varga over a period of 50 years besides his 21 volumes of poetry. His plays were first produced in inn yards and patios of the larger homes until capturing the imagination of the Spanish people, theatres were built in Madrid and other larger cities. De Varga also received the patronage of four rulers of Spain. In 1935 Spain honored de Varga with nationwide pageants and revivals of his dramas. In closing Miss van Hovenberg read a scene from "Sancho, the Brave" and also selections from one of the author's comedies.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Florence Cordis on Lindsay avenue.

Rev. F. H. Deming Speaks

The Rev. Fred H. Deming, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, addressed the members of the Business Girls' Club Wednesday evening at the weekly meeting. The Rev. Mr. Deming spoke on "Revitalizing Democracy," the national theme of the Business Girls' Club. He discussed democracy as the Christian way of life and emphasized that the theme of Lent emphasizes the positive rather than the negative approach of life.

Following the address the club members engaged in service work for Bundles for Britain. Mrs. Myron Teller spoke briefly to the group on the work that the Kingston unit of Bundles for Britain has accomplished since its organization last August. Next week the group will be addressed by Miss Agnes Scott Smith who will speak on "Ulster County Folklore."

Attending Regional Assembly

Mrs. Harry Parker Van Wageningen of John street, New York state commander of the Woman's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, left today to attend the regional assembly of the Field Army at Philadelphia, Pa. The general theme of the conference will be "Health Defense is National Defense." The purpose of the assembly is to discuss the relation during the national defense efforts of the problems of education, organization and development of the local cancer control program. The assembly will prove the value in permitting an exchange of opinions and experiences between national and state workers. Mrs. Van Wageningen will take part in a radio broadcast on Friday morning and will also take part in a special discussion of the accomplishments of and plans for the future of the New York State Women's Field Army.

Birthday Celebrated

Tilson, Feb. 27—A number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Rowe of Tilson on Saturday evening, February 22, to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Rowe. During the evening games were enjoyed and Mrs. James Gallagher entertained with several piano selections. Those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keator, Miss Ada Craig, Theodore Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bunnell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Deusen and Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher.

Engagement Announced

Highland, Feb. 27—Mr. and Mrs. John N. Relyea, Jr., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Eleanor to Gordon L. Busch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew P. Busch. Both young people are graduates of Highland High School.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier and Miss Ruth Brinnier of Pearl street, and Mrs. Louis Keger of Linderman avenue have been spending a few days in New York city.

Mrs. Ray Everett entertained at a dessert bridge on Tuesday at her home on Delta place. Three tables were in place.

Mrs. A. DuBois of Fair street left today for Frederick, Md., where she will spend the week-end as the guest of her daughter, Miss Mary DuBois, a student at Hood College. Mrs. Rose will attend the Mother's Week-end activities.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., of Albany avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herzog of Johnson avenue returned Wednesday from a vacation in Cuba.

MODES of the MOMENT

The little wool frock you choose for wear under a coat now should have sufficient style to carry alone—or with a fur scarf—later. This one has front fullness, a snug waist, and interesting bandings in self-material. The swirled hat is of sheer jersey.

A YOUNG BASQUE-TYPE STYLE

Marian Martin
PATTERN 9310

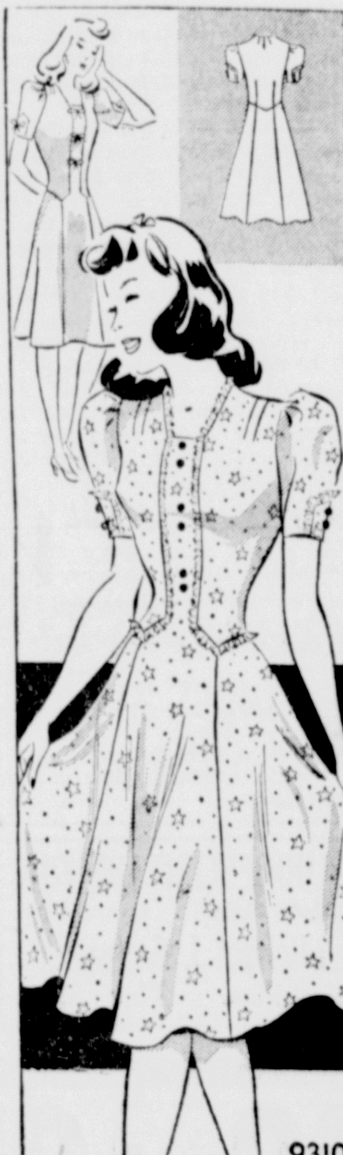

Frankly pretty—that's the keynote to the newest afternoon styles. Pattern 9310 shows exactly what we mean in a Marian Martin frock that is pretty and feminine and very young. A saucy basque-effect is given by the low point of the back waist-seam and the pointed bodice sections at either side-front. The center bodice panel continues right down into the skirt panel in one piece; a back skirt panel gives extra ease. You might like the daintiness of lace edging. Or if you go in for more striking effects, have the side bodice sections and sleeves in a gay contrast, with the rest of the frock in monotone. Watch out for a regular Spring shower of compliments whenever you appear in this captivating frock!

Pattern 9310 may be ordered only in misses' size 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric and 3 1/2 yards lace edging.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Thousands of Americans who have landed in New York after a trip to Europe or South America know Alexander McKeon. The reason is that Mr. McKeon, who retired recently, was in the United States customs service for 42 years and for more than 35 of those years spent much of his time on the piers of the various steamship lines supervising the inspection of the baggage of homecomers. Most travelers, however, do not know that Mr. McKeon, according to certain close friends, more than any other man, has been responsible for demonstrating that the collection of duty on various articles purchased abroad, if not wholly an enjoyable proceeding on both sides, can be done courteously and fairly.

Happened to encounter Mr. McKeon while at luncheon with a mutual friend, just before his retirement. He looks as bronzed and rugged as a sea captain. That is due, he explained, to the fact that he has spent so much of his life right at the edge of the sea waiting for ships to dock. Trained as a jeweler, but with a longing for a life in the open, one day he quit and joined the customs service as a weigher. A few years later he was transferred to the baggage division. In 1917 he was put in charge of baggage inspection with the rank of deputy surveyor. He was due to retire 12 months ago but because of his knowledge of European conditions, his experience gained through contact with travelers during the first World War and because he had so much detail at his finger ends as it were, he was retained in the service.

Out of his long experience, Mr. McKeon holds the case of forged customs stamps to be the most striking. Back in 1928, customs authorities became aware of the fact that large quantities of narcotics were being brought into the country. They also learned that customs stamps that showed that baggage had been inspected and which are cancelled before the baggage can be taken from the enclosure, were being removed from baggage that had undergone inspection and affixed to other trunks and bags, thus permitting unsuspected articles to pass the guards. Later they discovered also that customs stamps were being forged. But not until March, 1930, did anything happen despite all the efforts that were being made to catch the offenders.

One day the Ile de France arrived with the usual heavy passenger list and mountains of baggage. Specially selected agents scrutinized every piece of baggage that came from the ship. One noticed two trunks under the letter "B." They were marked "John Bell" but their owner did not seem to be near. Nothing unusual about that. The agent had a hunch, however. He soon returned and found that in his absence, customs stamps had been affixed to the trunks. The agent watched. A porter came, loaded the trunks on a truck and started to leave the pier. He was stopped. The fact that the trunks had not been inspected was quickly and easily verified. They were opened and found to contain narcotics that would have brought peddlers several hundred thousand dollars. The customs stamps were found to be forged.

It wasn't long before the customs agents discovered that John Bell was Jacob Clum, who had fled from the White Star line pier the week before after he had been tipped off that his baggage was believed to be "hot." Blum managed to get started for Europe on the liner Berengaria but a wireless message kept him from landing at Cherbourg. At Southampton he was arrested and sent back to New York where he was convicted and sentenced to seven years. He refused to "sing" but the higher-ups were eventually captured and jailed and that of course resulted in the end of the ring.

Still keeping to the water front, there are those English sailors who, when they are about to leave on the return voyage, stock up with all the onions they can carry. England imports her onions and the war has made them scarce. A stew isn't a stew without an onion. So the sailor's home-coming gift is a bag of onions.

In a snow fight in Central park after the first snowfall, the participants were Nani Todd, Lehua Paulson and Leinaala Kihoi. Being native Hawaiians on their first visit to this country, they had never seen snow before. Nevertheless, they had a good time...and of course got their pictures taken...They are hula dancers in the Lexington hotel. (Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

GOOD TASTE TODAY

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "The Personality of a House," "The Blue Book of Social Usage," etc.)

MOTHERS OF ENGAGED COUPLES SHOULD NOT BE STICKLERS FOR FORMALITIES IN ARRANGING FIRST MEETING

This is Emily Post's Advice to Girl's Mother Who Will Visit City Where the Other Mother Lives

As I have written many times both in this column and elsewhere, obedience to a rule simply helps to prevent misunderstanding between people—which may not mean that the rule has any importance when another person's intention is plain. This brings me to one of today's letters: "My daughter's fiancé lives with his mother in another town. My daughter and I are going there soon on business and will stop for a few days at the hotel. The other mother wrote to my daughter at the time the engagement was announced, but neither of us has met her. What is the correct way on this visit for us to meet?"

Correctly (in the strictest meaning of this word), the other mother should call on you at your hotel, leave a card on you and invite you to her house. However (speaking with normal common sense), let us suppose that instead of coming to your hotel, she sends a telephoned message inviting you to her house. It would certainly be inexcusably stiff on your part, as well as unfriendly, not to accept her invitation with pleasure.

Even if the son should bring a verbal invitation from his mother, you should take it for granted that she is following the custom in the community and not imagine that she does not want to welcome you. If the son brings you no message from his mother—which is hardly likely—then you should yourself make the first move and ask him to ask her whether she will come with him to see you or whether she would like to have him take you to see her. The important point is to show yourself friendly rather than a stickler for the formalities.

Funeral Flowers

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it incorrect to send a basket of flowers to the what less suitable than sprays and wreaths, which are typical funeral flowers. Baskets are seldom seen, probably because less easily arranged together than sprays.

Answer: Not incorrect but somewhat less suitable than sprays and wreaths, which are typical funeral flowers. Baskets are seldom seen, probably because less easily arranged together than sprays.

A Houseman's Clothes
Dear Mrs. Post: I am a houseman and in my new position am required to wear evening attire. I asked the lady in charge of a store here if we had trousers without braid. She said that all the tuxedos they ever sold to butlers had braid on the trousers. I read in your book that the trousers should be without braid. Maybe you would tell me what I should do.

Answer: If the braid couldn't be taken off, I imagine this is merely sewed on top of the finished seam. If no one in your town can buy anything else, it is evident that townspeople would hardly be critical if you wore braid.

Picnic at St. James

The indoor picnic for the Sunday school of St. James Methodist Church will be held in the basement of the church Friday, February 28, from 5 to 9 p. m. This mid-winter get-together has become an annual affair. It is planned and carried out by pupils of the school. The rooms are made to look as much like the out-of-doors as possible with picnic tables set for families with their baskets of picnic food.

An amateur hour will follow the supper with pupils participating. Stunts by classes will be a part of this program. Races and relays come next with prizes for winners. These are arranged for those of all ages to participate. Movies will then be shown, after which the entire group will sing before going home. Candy and cold drinks will be sold during the evening. Pupils, parents, teachers and friends of the Sunday school are urged to come, wear picnic clothes and bring their own supper.

To Conduct Service

The Rev. H. D. Stoddard of Binghamton will conduct a special service at the Alliance Church, corner Pine and Franklin streets, Friday night, Mr. Stoddard is superintendent of this district of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, and is making a tour of the churches of this section giving an evening at each. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Loss of Planes Reported

London, Feb. 27 (AP)—The air ministry announced today the loss of six R.A.F. planes, two of them fighters, in operations over German-occupied territory yesterday. (In Berlin, German sources put British plane losses yesterday and last night in operations over the channel and French coast at 12.)

Home Service

Dates at Home More Fun With Twosome Games

Let's put some real zip into that quiet date at home! Let's play "Pounce"—a rapid-fire version of solitaire for two.

You and your date each lay out a deck of cards as the diagram shows. Put 7 cards in a pounce pile, then deal 5 cards and build on these—leaving out one more pile to the left each time you build—until your last pile to the right has 5 cards. With all top cards face up, you're ready.

The object is to get rid of your 7-card "pounce pile"—fast! Playing separately, you each build red-on-black downward sequences on your 5 solitaire piles. Meanwhile, you both put all aces in the center, on which you build upward sequences in identical suits.

Go through your decks, 3 at a time, when necessary to make more moves. An empty space? Fill it from the "pounce pile." Suddenly you see a chance to play your last remaining "pounce" card and you cry "POUNCE—I win!"

What if two guests—or more—drop in? Our new 32-page booklet is packed with games for twosomes, threesomes, foursomes or "more-somes." Has card games, pencil games, stunts, puzzles, nonsense gags—to make you a popular hostess.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of GAMES AND STUNTS FOR TWO OR MORE to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Middies to Play Monticello in Crucial Game Friday Night

Victory May Give Club Title in 2nd Round of League

Rod Sagendorf Still High Scorer; Maroon to Meet Newburgh at Auditorium Friday

For the first time in the 1940-41 DUSO Basketball League fans are awaiting the game in Middletown Friday evening featuring the Middies and Monticello. The Middies are slight favorites to win.

A tie for honors in the second half of the circuit was caused last week when plucky Ellenville rose up and smashed Middletown by 39 to 29. It was Middletown's first setback in league competition this year.

While the Middies were losing their undisputed hold on first place Monticello, the other half of the tie, came up with a victory over Kingston. Friday's tussle now stands as the most important game in the circuit to date. Middletown can just about clinch the title with a victory.

Locals End Season Locally, the Maroon and White basketballers will put the finishing touches on a not too successful DUSO season by playing host to Newburgh at the municipal auditorium. Newburgh defeated Kingston in the first half by 33 to 27. The Goldbacks are again favored to win, but not by too much of an edge. The other league contest will bring together Port Jervis and Ellenville.

With a lot of happenings last week in league competition little thought was given to the individual scorers who are still paced by young Rod Sagendorf of the Kinsmen. Sagendorf's tremendous lead of other weeks has been carved in just two points over Carl Brown of Monticello. Sagendorf has 82. Finn and Brown of Port follow Brown's 80 with 77.

The scorers as tabulated by The Freeman sports department:

Pottery Ancient Art

The making of pottery is the oldest of the arts known to man, according to one authority. When prehistoric man learned to mold crude vessels of clay and bake them hard in the fire he put savagery behind him and rose one long step in the slow advance. Most of the knowledge the world has gained concerning prehistoric people has been gathered through a study of the pottery they left behind them in caves, graves and upon the plains and deserts.

International Loop Offers Dozen Who Are Likely to Make the Grade

By DILLON GRAHAM
Sports Editor, AP Feature Service
New York—The fast International league is sending more rookies to major league spring training camps than any other loop and about a dozen, led by batting champion Murray Howell, are likely to stick.

Howell, Baltimore outfielder whose .360 average won the hitting crown, was drafted by Cleveland. Howell batted out 29 home runs and drove in 119 runs for the Orioles.

Baltimore is also sending Bill Nagel and Eddie Collins to the Athletics, Lamar Newsome to the Red Sox and Nick Etten to the Phillies. Nagel, an infielder, was the home run champion with 37 and Etten, a first baseman, knocked in the most runs, 126.

MURRAY HOWELL

JOE MEDWICK

Ready to make a determined rally after last year's disappointing season, Joe "Muscles" Medwick, now of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is one of the busiest men in the Dodger training base in Havana. Here is Medwick, member of the once-famous St. Louis Cardinals and the Dodgers in 1934, in the 1941 "Grapefruit League" in Havana.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
Oakland, Calif.—Eddie Blunt, 216, New York, stopped Babe Hunt, 197, Lubbock, Tex., (6).

Bridgeport, Conn.—Angelo Radano, 135, Norwalk, Conn., stopped Frankie Terranova, 138, New York, (5).

Stone Ridge Wins

The Stone Ridge checker team, led by C. Burgher, defeated the Kingston-Walla-Walla Club recently by 430 to 210. Another series between these two clubs is expected soon.

Kampouris Back Up

Newark promotes second baseman Alex Kampouris, former big league, to the Dodgers, third baseman Henry Majecki to the Yankees. These are Tommy Holmes, likely to win an outfield job; Lou Blair, who may become a utility infielder, and Pitchers George Barley, Norman Branch, Allen Gettel, George Washburn and Steve Peek. Washburn, who was the league's top strike-outer with 141, won the most games—18. Peek had the longest winning streak of the year, 13 victories.

Detroit will look over a quartet from Buffalo: Pitchers Floyd Gehl, who came up late last season and outpitched Bob Feller to win the game that clinched the American league pennant; Fred Hutchinson, who also spent a while last year with Detroit, and Hal White, who won 16 while losing 4, and outfielder Pat Mullin.

Mike Ryba, the one-man gang from Rochester, gets a trial with the Red Sox. Ryba did a hurling chore last year and won 24 games while losing 8. Rochester also is sending to the Cardinals pitchers Henry Gornicki, who won 19 games, John Grodzicki, Elwin Roe, and Hershel Lyons, who won 19. Infielder Frank Crespi and Outfielder Estel Crabtree are mak-

Medwick Is Busy

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—Gerry Nugent, who wanted to get rid of his two star pitchers, has succeeded. . . . The Dodgers took Kirby Higbe and Uncle Sam soon will relieve the Phils of Hugh Mulcahy. . . . Babe Herman put in a bid for the Seattle manager job, but the front office just filed it under "H" and let it go at that. . . . Joe Boland, Notre Dame line coach, is wide open for a job and he doesn't mean maybe. . . . War correspondents at Miami report Bill Terry is completely sold on Bob Fox, former Tennessee football great.

All Quiet in Terre Haute

Bill Butland, the Red Sox pitcher who lives in Terre Haute, reports a very quiet winter. . . . He wrote a friend that nothing much happened other than that Dizzy Trout, another home town lad, dropped around to the pool hall to show his World Series emblems.

Caught on the Fly

The proposed Tennessee-Boston College game may be shifted to Baltimore's big municipal stadium. . . . Gates Kimball, North Carolina U. heavyweight who has been offered $10,000 to turn pro, is being advised by his coach, Mike Roman, against doing same. . . . Casey Stengel has a piece of six new Texas oil wells. . . . When we asked for a big red western hanky to polish up our Saline county, Kans., deputy sheriff's badge, the "Wagon Wheelers," publicity organization for Walla Walla, Wash., came through with a 27-inch that's a beauty. Thanks, podners. . . . The dope here is the Bees got Babe Dahlgren for the $7,500 waiver price.

Today's Guest Star

Busy Man's Newspaper

Vinnie Richards, the tennis pro, has followed Ellsworth Vines into golf and already is down in the low 70's. . . . Bill McKechie and the other Reds like the cut of Monte Pearson's job. . . . Ray Hill of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin has been appointed commissioner for the Middle Atlantic Football Conference and the guys who want to do the officiating had better see Ray. . . . Steve Owen of the Football Giants is back in town after interviewing prospects in the middle west. . . . Don't give up on Chaledon in the $100,000 Santa Anita just because of that bum showing in the San Antonio last week.

Plenty of Sport

(From the Danville (Va.) Beacon).
"The shooting match will last as long as there's anyone left around to shoot."

There Goes Dahlgren

It seems he asked too many G's. And so they sold him to the Bees.

In one month recently the Philippines shipped 14,940,000 cigars to the United States.

ing the same trip.

Hard-hitting Catcher Clyde McCullough, who batted out a .321 average, goes from Buffalo to the Cubs, who will also give Bob Sturgeon of Jersey City the once-over.

Five From Montreal

Brooklyn will inspect Pitchers Steve Rachunok, Max Macon and Kemp Wicker, catcher Angelo Guillian and outfielder George Staller from Montreal. Jersey City is sending pitchers Clyde Castleman and John Wittig and catcher Rae Blaemire to the New York Giants.

Toronto ships pitchers Lester McCrabb and Phil Marchiondi, outfielder Fred Chapman, and outfielder Eric Tipton, former Duke football star, to the A's. Infielder Dario Lodigiani goes to the Cubs. Pitchers Bill Clemensen, Lloyd Dietz, catcher Ray Mueller, and infielder Ed Leip of Syracuse are tagged for the Pirates and pitcher George Barnicle to the Bees.

Pitcher Ira Hutchinson of Montreal goes to the Cards; Catcher Bob Scheffins of Rochester to the Cubs; Infielder Wayne Ambler of Jersey City to the Reds and Infielder Vernon James of Jersey City to the Senators, Pitcher Ed Crouch of Montreal, and Tom Hughes, Dale Jones and Stan Benjamin of Baltimore all go to the Phillies.

Greenberg Peeved About Draft Call; Receives Contract

Tiger Ace Says He'll Go When Called; Will Not Ask Deferment; to Let Board Talk

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Bill Dickey's coming to terms marks the passing of another New York Yankee era. This will be the catcher's 14th season with the Yankees, and not a man on the squad was there when Bill first came up. In those 14 seasons he's dropped below .300 only twice—in 1935, to .279, and last year, his worst, when it was .247 for 106 games.

HANK GREENBERG

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—Hank Greenberg was still pretty peeved about the whole draft business today, but he felt a little better generally after taking a look at his brand-new contract and discovering the juicy raise the Detroit Tigers were giving him for his baseball services. He didn't give the figures.

However, Hankus Pankus, like the baseball world in general and the Tigers in particular, was still all up in the air about just what baseballing he'll be doing before the army calls him. Growing all over the place, he arrived home last night as sore as an open wound about (1) the statements that he had asked deferred classification in the draft and (2) the publication of a Detroit draft board of information in his draft questionnaire which he said was supposed to be confidential.

The big fellow came in by airplane at the end of a trip from Honolulu on which he was stopped "every ten minutes" to explain the whole thing, and he was mighty put out about it. It definitely wasn't the usual docile home-run ace.

"Gee, anybody'd think I was the only guy going into the army," he told baseball writers. "And I don't know a thing about it. All I know is when my number is called I'll go, and I'm not asking deferment. For any more dope, you'll have to ask that draft board in Detroit. They're making a statement every day, and every one seems to be different."

He understood, he added, this his number was 621 and that the Detroit board had reached No. 300 in calling the boys in, so he probably wouldn't get the signal until about June.

New Zealand recently made a public appeal for 4,000 horses for its army, the country having become so motorized that horses are scarce.

Low Markus Bowlers Have Aces Ready for Kendall Five

New York Keglers Appear at Central Recreation Alleys on March 8; Sampson to Bowl

Eddie Botten and Junie McMahon, the two outstanding members of the famed Low Markus Five of New York, who tackle Johnny Ferraro and Charlie Tiano in a special doubles March 8, at the Central Recreation Alleys are among the best pinsters in the East.

Botten is renowned as a singles competitor, having beaten Tony Sperando, of New York, in a 46-game match for $1,000 at the start of the season. He has captured the Major Gage Sweepstakes in Philadelphia and always finished in the money in the Petersen Classic. Botten is also a past winner of Thum's Individual Classic.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

(By the Associated Press)
San Antonio, Tex.—Now that Manager Casey Stengel has Babe Dahlgren and veteran Earl Averill on his hands, the Boston Bees' training camp is buzzing with rumors of a trade in the very near future. Indications point to the sale of outfielder Max West to one of several National League clubs reputedly eager for his services.

Fort Myers, Fla.—Hal Trosky, Cleveland first baseman who slumped to a .295 batting average last season, has been given permission by Manager Roger Peckinpaugh to become a switch hitter, batting right-handed against southpaws. Trosky says he started his career as a right-hander (he still throws that way) and sees no reason why he shouldn't be able to improve his percentage working alternate sides of the plate.

Havana, Cuba—The lineup which the Brooklyn Dodgers will field against the Giants tomorrow for 1941's first exhibition game is likely to be the one that also will face the Giants in the National League opener at Ebbets Field in April. Even the starting pitcher probably will be the same, Kirby Higbe. The other hurlers, for three-inning duties, will be Bill Swift and Curt Davis, with Medwick, Reiser and Waner in the outfield; Camilli, Coscarart, Lavagetto and Reese in the infield, and Herman Franks doing most of the catching.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Bill Dickey's coming to terms marks the passing of another New York Yankee era. This will be the catcher's 14th season with the Yankees, and not a man on the squad was there when Bill first came up. In those 14 seasons he's dropped below .300 only twice—in 1935, to .279, and last year, his worst, when it was .247 for 106 games.

Pasadena, Calif.—After a long winter of deliberation, young Bob Kennedy thinks he can boost his 1941 batting average "at least 25 points" higher than his 1940 figure of .252. The Chicago White Sox third baseman has changed his stance and ordered new bats with thicker handles after deciding that in his first year he was "hitting with my weight too far behind the bat and swinging just with my wrists."

Miami, Fla.—With Manager Bill Terry, 25 players and former New York mayor, Jimmy Walker in Havana for the three-game series with Brooklyn, Tony Cuccinello was in charge of the Giants' stay-at-homes. The Jersey City pilot, in this capacity, will act as a one-man welcoming committee in case any of the holdouts, notably catcher Hank Danning, decide to show up.

San Bernardino, Calif.—These are the days when the rookie is in his glory. It's no different at the St. Louis Cardinals camp, where the veterans stood around admiring the 20-year-old Frank Kalin of Weirton, W. Va., belted the first ball over the left field fence, 354 feet away. He was a standout hitter for the Bucs' farm at Gadsden of the Southeastern League the last two years.

Avalon, Calif.—Two less holdouts and a streamlined Dizzy Dean are the big news in the Chicago Cub camp. Latest to come to terms are third baseman Stan Hack, who came over from the mainland with the squad yesterday, and first baseman Rip Russell, who already was here. Dean, who at one time last summer hit 217 pounds, weighed 194 today, said he felt fine and looked it.

Old South Meeting House

In Boston Is Endangered
BOSTON.—The English death-watch beetle recently came close to wrecking the old South Meeting house in Boston, famous in Revolutionary days. The beetle is so named because it makes the ticking noise heard in old churches during all-night wakes. Dr. Donald M. Muirhead of Duxbury, Mass., said it came to this country in Colonial days, probably in furniture and timber. It was found three years ago in the blackwood floor of the meeting house. Hypodermic needle sprays in each hole, followed by creosoting of the exterior, probably have safeguarded the timber for the future, according to Dr. Muirhead.

Demand for flashlight bulbs

In Italy has increased to 18,000,000 a year.

Mahon, the colorful New Jerseyite, is well known to local fans who have seen him go over the 600 mark on three occasions. The five games of doubles represent the first money match between local bowlers and those in the big time.

Other Standouts
Three other highly touted keggers—Sid Baum, Frankie Seaton and Rudy Fassl—will appear with the Low Markus Five which currently holds the high series and high singles record in the Joe Falcato Major League.

All five members of the Low Markus Five have been in Kingston before with such teams as the Pabst Blue Ribbons, Capitol Five, George Washington Hotel and Joe Falcato Schlitz. Experts regard it as the greatest strike throwing combination in the metropolitan district.

Kendalls will have Gil Sampson in their lineup for the 5-man competition that night. Others who will compete are Harold Broskie, Charlie Tiano, Fred Rice, Marty Kellenberger and Johnny Ferraro. Reserved seats already have gone on sale for this event and indications point to a record breaking crowd. Reservations can be made by calling the alleys, 1326.

Egg Shells for Calcium

Sterilized ground egg shells are just as good a source of calcium for chicks and laying hens as oyster shell or ground limestone, Iowa State college research poultrymen have concluded following a two-year experiment.

The summarized result showed no consistent difference in fertility and hatchability of the eggs produced with oyster shell and egg shell. Nor was there any noticeable difference in the age of the embryos at the time of death in the fertile eggs which did not hatch.

Fox Deserves Reputation

The fox's reputation for cunning is based on a stronger foundation than mere fable. Many people have seen him perform the old trick that never seems to fail. He lies down in an open clearing in the forest. His legs are outstretched, and he is apparently dead. He stays like this for hours if need be—while the carrion crows gather on adjacent trees. After deliberating noisily for some time, the crows come down and hop towards the feast. The fox waits. And as soon as the first greedy half-dozen springs in for the waiting heal he rushes to life. Rarely does he fail to pin down a crow. The fox is one of the few animals to have the intelligence to use inanimate objects for its own purposes. A dog-fox shot in northern Norway carried in its mouth a bundle of ling, inside which were found 26 field-mice and two small birds.

Bowers Scores 52 As Wimpies Crush DeMolay, 92 to 19

New Scoring Record Beats Ten Broeck's; Maddens and Jones Also Win City League Games

High scoring continued at the usual pace last night in the City Basketball League as Pat Bowers, youthful player of Wimpies, came through with the highest score of the season—52 points. He tossed in 24 fields and four fouls for his elaborate total against DeMolay.

While Bowers was having a field day his teammates proceeded to crush the DeMolay squad by 92 to 19. Plattner dropped in 22 and Coughlin scored 10 to complete the rout. Other scores were Maddens 67, Mary's Five 39; Jones 54, Keystones 43.

Culver Ten Broeck, formerly the high scorer in the league, amassed 25 last night against Mary's Five. J. Kreppel and Dobie scored 22 of the 39 points for the losers. Geisler, Gilday and Dubin took the offensive thrust against Keystones. Sapp and Bob Nussbaum dumped in 12 apiece for the defeated cagers.

The scores:
Wimpies (92)—Plattner 22, D. Smith 0, Bowers 52, Dart 0, Coughlin 10, Kozlowski 2, B. Smith 2, Rickerson 1, Thomas 4, L. H. DeMolay (19)—Kuehn 13, Parslow 0, Craig 6, Spader 0.

Maddens (67)—F. Madden 12, Fisher 6, Ten Broeck 25, Buchanan 4, Perini 8, Maroon 4, J. Madden 8, Mary's Five (39)—King 8, Schleede 5, Storms 4, Kreppel 12, Dobie 10.

Seven Die in Air Crash in South

Blocked sideroads along the wind-blown Jonesboro-Atlanta highway.

Officials Are Silent

Air line officials were reluctant to discuss any theories on the accident pending fuller inquiry. The retractable landing gear, it could not be told whether this had been lowered for a forced landing or whether it was torn loose by the impact.

Mrs. Littlefield was trapped in the wreckage, pinned down by a fallen tree but when rescuers approached she told them:

"I'm all right; see what you can do to help the others."

Byron was elected to the House in 1938 and re-elected last fall over Republican Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" of baseball pitching fame.

He was en route to join his wife in New Orleans where she had attended the Mardi Gras celebration, and they planned to go on together to Mexico for a vacation trip and to spend some time with Josephus Daniels, United States ambassador to Mexico.

Byron had been in public life since 1926, starting as mayor of Williamsport. He was the father of five boys the oldest four of whom played with him in a "Family Hill Billy Band."

When Mrs. Byron received word of the accident she left New Orleans at once for Atlanta.

Mrs. Rickenbacker also started at once for Atlanta from Charlotte, N. C., where she had been visiting.

Rickenbacker was en route to Birmingham, Ala., where he was to have addressed a luncheon of the Aero Club today in connection with an extension of Eastern Air Line service to the Alabama city.

Near 'Tara' Locale

The area in which the plane fell in the first major transport tragedy to mar Eastern Air's record is in the heart of "The County," a plantation country that was the scene for Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind."

No mighty "Tara Hells" mark the red clay hills now and vast plantations have given way to small farms and the slash pines, such as the Mexico Sloop, plowed through, have taken back many of the broad red fields once given over to cotton.

The terrain is rough, although not mountainous, and near where the sleeper was wrecked is a large, fairly broad and level field, leading to a theory that sudden mechanical difficulty might have overtaken the air giant and a forced landing was being attempted.

Despite the early hour and the thinness of population in the area of the crash, scores of curious gathered within minutes after the wreckage was located.

The position of the wreck and the crumpling of windows and doors made it difficult for men working in mud and a light rain to get into the cabin. Automobile jacks were used to lift some of the debris from the injured and a truck finally was used to pull the hull around so it could be entered.

B. C. M. Van Der Hoop, vice president of the Tin Processing Corporation of New York, was en route to Texas on a business trip. His firm is a subsidiary of the Biltmore Company of Holland, which conducts tin mine operations in the Dutch East Indies. A Dutch citizen, he had been in this country with his wife and three children only five months.

Harold A. Littlefield is an assistant to the managing editor of the New York Times, where he had been employed 17 years. He formerly was a staff member of the New York Post and won a Pulitzer prize for an investigation of disabled veterans hospitals. The newspaperman and his wife, who live in Short Hills, N. J., were en route to Mexico for a vacation. Mrs. Littlefield is editor of Parents Magazine.

They have two children, Harold, Jr., 13, and Rosemarie, 17. Clarence M. Tappen of Nutley, N. J., was on a business trip to Houston, Texas.

Captain James Perry was a veteran pilot with nearly 5,000 flying hours credited to him. He was a native of Lawrenceville, Ga., and attended Riverside Military Academy at Gainesville, Ga., and later the Merion (Ala.) Institute. He was 30 years old and married.

Steward Clarence Moore, 36, was born in England and joined E. A. L. a year ago, after serving on various ocean liners.

Former operator of his own airline between San Antonio and Houston, Co-Pilot L. E. Thomas was 31 years old, a native of Harper, Texas. He had been flying 12 years. He was married.

A friend of the Hansell family said he was 58 and an oil company engineer, with offices in New York and Houston.

The friend said Hansell telephoned his wife at their Bronx home, and told her that he was "all right—only shaken up a bit."

The Hansells have four sons, one an employee of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, another in the army at camp near Boston, Mass., and two others in the oil business in Texas.

Casualty List

E. A. L. Wreck Is Fourth Commercial Air Wreck In U. S. Within 6 Months

(By The Associated Press)

The crash of an Eastern Air Lines plane near Atlanta today was the fourth commercial air wreck in the six months since a 17-month no-accident record was broken last August.

And like today's crash in which ten were killed, the three intervening accidents occurred as the planes neared the safety of airports.

Until a Pennsylvania Central Airlines transport carried 25 persons, including Senator Ernest A. Lundeen, to death near Lovettsville, Va., August 30, there had been no fatal commercial airline accidents in the United States in 17 months and four days.

Two and a half months later, on November 14, a United Airlines plane crashed into a mountain near Salt Lake City, Utah, killing 10 persons. The plane had reported by radio that it was only 25 miles from Salt Lake City and preparing to land there.

On December 4, another United Airlines transport crashed as it dropped down toward a runway at the Chicago airport. Eight were killed.

And on January 23, a Transcontinental and Western Airship struck a tree as it settled down for a landing at St. Louis and nosed over to earth. Fourteen were aboard, but only two died—the pilot and a T. W. A. employee aboard as a passenger.

Coup Is Planned In Dardanelles

that General Nicola Petkoff, chief of staff of the Bulgarian army, had conferred last night with Premier Bogdan Philoff and Foreign Minister Ivan Popoff preliminary to an emergency meeting of the cabinet.

There was no indication of the reason for the sudden activity, and the Bulgarian government issued another denial of reports that German troops had entered the country.

Turkey was given the right to fortify the Dardanelles by the Montreux convention of 1936, ratified by France, Great Britain, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, Germany and Yugoslavia. The agreement terminated the 1923 Lausanne treaty, under which Turkey was forbidden to militarize the region around the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus.

Control of the Dardanelles has for centuries been a much sought prize, and Turkey's position astride the Straits is one of her chief sources of power, as well as a potential cause for conflict.

The Straits were the scene of bloody fighting in the World War when Britain attempted unsuccessfully to gain control of them for an avenue of assistance to her ally, imperial Russia.

Youth Will Await Grand Jury Probe On Local Charge

Albert Green, 21, who told the police he was a member of the National Youth Administration in Woodstock, waived examination this morning in police court and was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of impairing the morals of a young girl.

Judge Matthew V. Cahill fixed bail in the sum of $500. Green was arrested on Sunday afternoon on Green street by the police after two young girls had run into the court house and complained to the sheriff that they had been halted by a young man on the street, who made improper advances. Both girls are 13 years of age.

Mrs. Gonzie Dawson, a negress, who gave her address as 225 Hasbrouck avenue, was sentenced to 15 days in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct, and a further sentence of five days in jail on a charge of public intoxication. She was accused of being intoxicated and using indecent language on the street.

Six Drivers Arrested

Six autoists charged with failing to observe full stop signs were arrested Wednesday in the city. The six, all of whom furnished bail for their appearance later, were Wesley G. Parish of Lake Katrine, Leroy Legg of Saugerties, Giovanni Lamara of RFD 1, Kingston, Edward L. Leatham of Newburgh, William L. Pinder of 116 Downs street, and John Troy, Jr., of 184 North Manor avenue.

kidnaped "by Bulgarian police at the behest of the Germans."

British quarters said the incident might lead to a break in diplomatic relations between Bulgaria and Britain.

A claim by Hitler's high command yesterday that German mechanized troops had met and defeated British forces in the Libyan desert was countered by British general headquarters in Cairo today. A communiqué said British mechanized forces "drove back" a reconnaissance unit "believed to be German" in Libya.

In the British-German air war, R.A.F. night raiders reported a "very successful" attack on the Rhineland city of Cologne—the 58th—and fire-setting assaults on the docks of Boulogne, France, and Flushing, Holland.

Night Raids on London
The Germans reported night raids on London and Cardiff, Wales, and asserted that R.A.F. bombers attacking western Germany had "planlessly" dropped their cargoes, mostly on villages, killing a number of civilians and wounding many.

A British communiqué said the German raids were "on a considerable scale." Thousands of incendiary bombs were reported to have been dropped on Cardiff.

British headquarters said British troops which captured Mogadiscio, seaport capital of Italian Somaliland, on the night of Feb. 25-26 had advanced 570 miles in 13 days "in the face of opposition over a single-track road."

The fall of the capital, virtually knocking out the first of Italy's African colonies, was described as having "demoralized the enemy forces, who are offering themselves for surrender all along the large stretch of country which we have overrun."

The town of Mogadiscio suffered little damage, the British said, "owing to the darkness, the speed of our advance and the hurried evacuation of the Italians."

A letter from Sweden to a friend in Johannesburg, South Africa, was so heavily censored that only one sentence could be deciphered, and it read "We are full of beans."

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is arresting persons who cut down trees on their own property without obtaining permission from the city.

Happy Over Settlement of Strike

Colonial Liquor Strike Is Ended

Five-Week Walkout Brings 25 Per Cent Increase

With the signing of a new wage and labor contract this morning the five-week strike of the truck drivers and warehousemen of the Colonial Liquor Distributors, Inc., of Pine Grove avenue, was settled with the men receiving a 25 per cent increase in wages. The new contract was signed by Vincent J. Andretta, president of the beverage concern, and Joseph Rodden, union delegate of Local No. 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Helpers and Warehousemen.

Approximately 10 men were involved in the strike which has been in force for a period of five weeks.

The new agreement which was signed this morning was said to be satisfactory to both sides of the controversy.

Mr. Andretta said this morning that his concern has always been in favor of union labor and collective bargaining, and the statement was corroborated by Mr. Rodden.

Projects Under Way
There are now employed on local WPA projects in the city a total of 360 men it was said at the office of the WPA on the Strand today. These men are employed mostly on new water, sewer and park projects. One of the largest projects is the new storm water sewer that is to be laid on Housatonic avenue, from Murray street to the Strand. This sewer is being laid to relieve flood conditions in the upper section of the Sixth ward during heavy rainfalls.

Fire Board Takes No Action on New Pumper

No action was taken by the fire board Wednesday evening on the purchase of a new pumper for the Cornell Fire Station, and only routine business was transacted.

Bids for the new pumper are now being received from manufacturers of fire apparatus and as soon as all bids are in it is expected the fire board will award the contract.

It is expected that later in the year the board will also order the proposed alarm horns that are to be installed in the city to replace the present system of bell alarms, which have been in use for many years.

These horns will be installed in various sections of the city. Just how many horns will be purchased is not known but at least two and probably four will be installed.

Sues for Divorce

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 27 (AP)—Morton Downey, the singer, filed suit for divorce today from actress Barbara Bennett, charging cruelty and asking custody of their five children. Downey, a Greenwich resident, said his wife had treated him cruelly since January 1, 1940, but his suit did not say how. They were married January 28, 1929, in New York. The children are Michael, 11; adopted son, Sean Morton, 9; Lorelle Ann, 7; Anthony Patrick, 6, and Kevin, 3.

Flier's Mother Ill

Beverly Hills, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Rickenbacker, mother of Eddie, is too ill to be informed of his injury in an airplane accident, Dewey C. Rickenbacker, another son, said today. The flier's mother has been confined to her bed for several days.

ever, that the administration leadership might decide to call on its parliamentary strength in an attempt to get a final vote next week.

Chavez, meanwhile, carried on the opposition's fight. In the speech he prepared for Senate delivery, he declared that the pending bill "spells W-A-R."

By fighting for democracy abroad, he added, the United States may lose it at home.

U. S. Must Come First
"The United States must come first," Chavez continued, "and if I have only one gun, I shall not wait it through the middle and send one half overseas."

"I challenge any member to name one single instance in which, under this bill, the defense of the United States will be advanced. I must insist immediately that the defense of England is not our defense."

Brown, championing the bill in his prepared address, predicted that a German victory would force the United States either to battle with the Nazi military machine or to build a defense so formidable that Hitler "will not dare to attack us."

If it should become necessary, he said, to maintain huge armed forces for defense, "our leadership, drunk with the heavy wine of military power, would soon follow the course pursued by all military dynasties—imperialism."

"It would soon be argued that Canada was necessary for our defense, that Mexico, Central America, the nearby islands ought to be right to be ours."

"In other words, because human nature under similar circumstances reacts in the same way, a Prussianized, militarized America might act as a Russianized Germany has acted."

To avoid such a course, Brown declared, the pending legislation "is not only the best weapon at hand; it is the only weapon which we can now at this hour grasp and use" for the maintenance of American democracy.

Creek Locks Man Succumbs to Heart Attack Near Home

Harry Mellows, about 45, was fatally stricken with a heart attack shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon while sawing wood in the yard at his home at Creek Locks.

Mr. Mellows until about three months ago drove a bus between Creek Locks and Kingston. Yesterday he had rigged up a saw to his automobile, using the motor for power, and was at work sawing wood for some time when his wife looking out of the house saw him lying on the ground.

The Central Hudson emergency truck and a physician were called, but Mr. Mellows was beyond medical aid.

Mr. Mellows had been under a physician's care for some time receiving treatment for a heart ailment.

Explosion Rocks Plant

Acton, Mass., Feb. 27 (AP)—A sharp explosion today rocked a plant in the black powder section of the American Powder Company, sending at least one man to the hospital with apparently serious injuries. The company's various powder mills are spread over a wide area near here, with an eye to minimizing the effects of an explosion, and this apparently was instrumental in confining the blast to a single building. The explosion was felt as far away as Farmington, 14 miles distant.

Mrs. Umeno Itabashi, aged 25, of Wakamatsu, Japan, has given birth to her third set of quadruplets.
